Army Vote Bill Passes In Assembly

Unanimous Approval Is Given; Minority Says, Despite Vote, Effort Is Republican

Calls It Forced

Steingut Says His Party Had to Seem to Keep Faith

Albany, N. Y., April 23 (AP)—A Republican "soldier vote" bill, expected to add at least a month to the fall gubernatorial campaign, was unanimously approved today by New York's assembly.

While Democrats voted with majority Republicans for the measure, the minority leadership nevertheless maintained the bill represented a G. O. P. effort to lengthen its campaign effort to elect the first Republican governor in 20 years.

Republicans insisted the bill, advancing the state's pre-election activities five weeks, is intended to assure voting privileges for approximately 400,000 New Yorkers in the armed services, about 100,000 of them overseas.

Earlier circulation of absentee ballots, the bill's sponsors contended, is necessary to permit the mailing and receipt of ballots in time to be counted for the election.

"The Army has served notice," asserted Assembly Democratic Minority Leader Irwin Steingut, "that elections will not be held on foreign soil this fall. Your plan is not workable."

"The only reason for this bill is to lengthen your campaign by five weeks. Rather than place our party in a bad position where you can say we are trying to withhold the vote from soldiers, we are forced to vote for what we know is a bad bill."

"There never was any intent on our part to advance these dates for political purposes," retorted Republican Assembly Majority Leader Irving M. Ives. "The five weeks extra are needed to reach soldiers in Australia, India and elsewhere with ballots."

"If the Army doesn't want to allow the men to vote, there's nothing we can do about it. But we should not be a party to the disenfranchisement of those risking their lives for us."

The rush for adjournment pushed the bill immediately to the Senate where prompt concurrence was expected.

Temporarily, the controversial subject took the political spotlight from such other outstanding issues as:

Reapportionment of the State's Congressional districts which the assembly was expected to approve tomorrow but which senate leaders of both parties declared was due for "a very cool reception" in the upper house.

Senate and assembly sanction, despite Democratic opposition, of a $25,000 legislative investigation of the Democratic-controlled state civil service administration.

Legislative approval of liberalization of unemployment insurance benefits scheduled to give "millions of dollars extra" to persons made jobless by industry's transition from a peace to wartime basis.

Senate consideration of an assembly resolution which it defeated a year ago to place the state against the St. Lawrence Seaway development.

The Republican-sponsored bill to start the State's pre-election machinery five weeks in advance would create a $100,000 state war ballot commission to assure voting privileges to about 400,000 New Yorkers in the armed services, about 100,000 of them overseas.

Rationing Board Sets Hours for Registration Under War Sugar Plan

Commissioned

DR. JOSEPH J. JACOBSON

Dr. Joseph J. Jacobson of East Chestnut street, has received his commission as a lieutenant commander in the U. S. Naval Reserve, and will leave Sunday for one of the naval bases on the eastern seaboard. Lieut. Commander Jacobson recently enlisted in the medical corps and was called to New York earlier in the week when he received his commission. Dr. Jacobson said today that he planned to discontinue active practice in his profession until the duration and that his office here would be closed while he was in naval service.

U. S. Might Have Food Shortages

Needs of United Nations Might Cut Seriously Into Production

Washington, April 23 (AP)—America may have some surprising food shortages through meeting the increasing wartime demands of the United Nations.

Senators said Secretary of Agriculture Wickard disclosed this situation at closed sessions of a Senate appropriations committee reviewing House action in slashing more than $30,000,000 from cash budget estimates for the agriculture department in the coming fiscal year.

Several senators quoted the secretary as saying that a shortage of shipping space was the chief obstacle now in the wartime effort to keep this country and her fighting Allies well fed. Later, the cabinet member said some farm production shortages might develop.

If the United States could ship all the food required or requested, Wickard said shortages probably would develop in dairy products, fats and oils, meats and some other abundantly common products.

In connection with surplus stocks of cotton, wheat and corn now held by the government as a result of price-supporting loan programs, Secretary Wickard urged senators to remove a House provision in the farm supply bill prohibiting sales below a full parity price. "A parity price is one computed to give a farm product the same relative purchasing power it had in a past period, usually 1909-14."

Plans for sugar rationing in Kingston have been completed by the Kingston Rationing Board, and trade registration, which includes retailers, wholesalers, institutions, industrial users, food and service establishments, will take place at Kingston High School on Tuesday, April 28, from 3:30 o'clock that afternoon until 8 o'clock that evening.

Dates to Be Set

Dates for householders will be fixed by officials

The second day of registration will be Wednesday April 29, from 1 to 8 p. m. Dates for registering householders will be fixed later and will follow the registration of the dealers. At the rationing board this morning it was stated that the plans for registering consumers early in May would be announced in time so that householders could make preparations.

Under the plan as adopted trade users will be rationed first on Tuesday and Wednesday. The plan provides for the registration of all such establishments and users at the high schools throughout the nation on April 28 and 29.

Authority to purchase sugar under this rationing plan will be evidenced by a sugar-purchasing certificate which will be issued at the time of registration next week.

No Official County Orders

Edgar T. Shultis, county rationing administrator, said this morning that his office had not as yet received full official instructions regarding sugar rationing procedure but expected that all details would be on hand before the first of the week.

Registration for the trade will be on April 28 and 29, probably between the hours of 4 and 7 p. m. This registration will be at the high schools and perhaps some other places. There was a conference this afternoon between the county administrator and superintendents of high schools, at which time places for registration and hours were to be considered.

The trade includes wholesalers and retailers. In addition industries will register at the same time, including the hotels, restaurants, cafes, food processing plants and public institutions.

Householders will register for their ration cards May 4, 5, 6 and 7. This registration will be at the elementary school buildings and perhaps at some other locations to be selected today, with hours probably from 4 to 7 p. m.

Although Mr. Shultis has not received official confirmation as to the amount per person, he assumes that it will be half a pound of sugar per week. There will be a ban on all sale of sugar for the week beginning April 26.

At the local rationing board today the following statement was issued:

"It is strongly urged that all trade users of sugar, whether wholesalers or retailers or industrial users, give some information about the business and also about the sugar consumption."

"In addition to the registration, an application must be made out for sugar-purchase certificates. Upon the proper signing of the application by the owner of the business and its acceptance by the registrars, these certificates will be issued. These are known as 'sugar-purchase certificates'."

"At the time, the wholesaler-retailer will also be furnished with stamp cards in which to keep sugar-purchase stamps presented by the purchasing consumer. These stamp cards will be the basis for the issuing of further sugar-purchase certificates to the wholesaler-retailer group."

"The institutional and industrial groups will be given special consideration."

Nazis Call 1,900,000 Men to Duty

Germans Are Said to Be Increasingly Nervous Over Prospect Allies Might Invade

Drops Bombs

Feast Day of St. George Is Occasion for Anglo Air Raids

(By The Associated Press)

Adolf Hitler has called up 1,900,000 fresh reserves including teen-aged youths and now has nine-tenths of his fighting force massed on the Russian war front, an official Soviet spokesman said today as Stockholm dispatches reported mounting German nervousness over the prospect of an allied invasion of Europe.

The Soviet spokesman, S. A. Lozovsky, said the Nazi reserves called to bolster Hitler's winter-battered armies included 900,000 youths of 17 and 18 years in the two new military classes.

Meanwhile, British R.A.F. warplanes celebrated the feast day of St. George, the patron saint of England, with a smashing new assault on the German industrial Rhineland and the docks at Le Havre in German-occupied France. During the night, big guns on the English channel coast also boomed across Dover Strait and continued firing for about 30 minutes.

The aerial thrusts against Adolf Hitler's Rhineland was founded and Le Havre capped yesterday's spectacular raid by British commandos who landed on the Nazi-occupied French "invasion coast" near Boulogne, cut German communications and probed enemy fortifications for two hours.

The Nazi high command acknowledged "some casualties" and material damage in western Germany, but declared that German night raiders struck back with an attack on an English south coast munitions factory which caused "violent explosions."

The Germans said five R. A. F. bombers were shot down over the Reich; the British said four planes were missing.

Stockholm advices said German expectancy of an Allied invasion of western Europe had increased considerably, with the Nazis taking feverish precautions along the entire "front" from the top of Norway to southern France.

The Berlin correspondent of the Stockholm newspaper Dagens Nyheter reported that "certain optimists are convinced the British will come by May 1," and London quarters said this was a feeler so obvious that Nazi anxiety must have dictated it.

Other signs of German "jitters" were reports that the Nazis had set 40,000 laborers to work on anti-invasion defenses in Norway and that German authorities in France had barred civilians from Normandy's coastal roads between 7:30 p. m. and 6 a. m.—leaving the clear assumption that any persons abroad in the forbidden hours or other foe, subject to being shot on sight.

On the Russian war front, Soviet dispatches reported that the German armies in the Ukraine, heavily battered in recent weeks, had abandoned their counterattacks and changed tactics to a defense of fortified positions.

The significance in this lay in well informed military predictions that Hitler's long-heralded offensive strike its heaviest blows on the shores of Manila Bay and were driving rapidly toward our last air field at the southeastern tip of Bataan. We had a single plane left.

"It was decided to make an effort to check the Japanese and I was chosen to fly the plane, a pursuit plane."

"I loaded the ship with light fragmentation bombs, filled the guns with ammunition, and hopped off in the early evening. Flying up the eastern (Manila Bay) shore of the peninsula, I was over the Japanese position within a few minutes."

"I located the enemy advancing on foot and in vehicles down the coast road and dove on the columns, letting go my bombs at a low altitude and returning to strafe the lines until my ammunition was exhausted."

"The Japs quickly opened fire and tracers floated all around the Allied Headquarters, Australia, April 23 (AP)—The United States army air force fought to the end on Bataan Peninsula and, with the Japanese only a few miles away, sent its last flyable plane into the air to attack and attempt to check the enemy's final advance.

That plane was flown by Lieut. Jack Donaldson of Tulsa, Okla., who has arrived safely in Australia. He told this story of his flight:

Nazi acquisition of the widely-scattered units of the French fleet would be a matter of grave concern to the United Nations—but it still wouldn't give the Axis naval superiority, according to available figures.

This chart shows how the navies would compare if France turned over to Germany that portion of the fleet stationed in French ports, and if the United States and Great Britain seized units now under Allied surveillance.

Three battleships and two cruisers were in British ports when France quit the war. An aircraft carrier and two cruisers were stranded in Caribbean ports, and are under U. S. and British surveillance. The figures do not take into consideration destroyers, submarine and smaller units, nor available small Dutch units and the Russian navy. The latter is chiefly active in the Black Sea and has no large role at present in the battle of the oceans.

Blossom Queen Is To Be Chosen May 1 At Cairo Ceremony

Local Officials Will Attend Rites Geared to Present Conditions; Council Assures Funds

Greene county will select the queen for the fifth annual Hudson Valley Apple Blossom Festival on Friday evening, May 1, at appropriate exercises at Cairo High School.

The event, which was to have been held at a Catskill theatre, was changed recently to Cairo.

The queen will be chosen from contestants representing the seven Greene county high schools. Each girl will have two attendants and a total of 21 will participate in the exercises. Only seven girls, however, will compete for the title of queen.

Coronation will take place in this city later in the month at appropriate ceremonies.

Mayor William F. Edelmuht and the Apple Blossom Festival Committee will attend the Cairo ceremony. Mayor Edelmuht will extend a message of welcome to Kingston.

Almost enough funds have been raised already through membership in the Ulster County Council, Inc., to finance the fifth annual Hudson Valley Apple Blossom Festival, according to C. C. DuMond, vice president of the council and general chairman of the festival.

Mr. DuMond has received letters from several of the representatives of other counties assuring him of their fullest possible cooperation.

E. Stuart Hubbard, representative from Dutchess county wrote as follows: "I believe that the festival can help in keeping the public aware of our industry in the valley by making possible interesting news releases. If this can be done without taking time and thought away from our acute production problems or from important war service, it will be very much worthwhile."

According to Mr. DuMond, this expresses the desires of the general committee. That is why one county has been chosen to select the Hudson valley queen this year, thus eliminating all inter-county meetings. The coronation will take place in conjunction with some

Ickes Calls 5-Gallon Limit Not Justified

Petroleum Coordinator Says Objective Is to Supply as Much Gas as Possible

Washington, April 23 (AP)—Petroleum Coordinator Ickes declared today there was "no justification" for anticipating that eastern motorists would be limited to as little as 2½ to 5 gallons of gasoline a week.

Such figures had been mentioned as likely under the card rationing system announced yesterday by Price Administrator Leon Henderson, to be effective May 15 but Ickes told his press conference, "if we are able to carry out our plans there will be no such cut."

"We refuse to believe that people will be put on such short rations. Our objective is to supply as much gasoline as possible."

Ickes said he knew of no such figure having been discussed and noted that Henderson's announcement of the card rationing plan did not contain the 2½-to-5-gallon figure.

Heads of five top-ranking war agencies told motorists flatly today that the government no longer would risk lives of American seamen "so someone will have gasoline to go to a bridge party or a ball game."

Following swiftly on yesterday's announcement that gasoline rationing would begin May 15 in 17 eastern states and the District of Columbia, the joint statement declared "motoring-as-usual is out" in that area, possibly for the duration of the war.

Semi-official estimates of the probable ration allowances ranged from 2½ to five gallons a week to 25 gallons a month.

Announcement of the plan brought sharp protests from several quarters. William A. Thibodeau, general manager of the Automobile Legal Association, telegraphed Price Administrator Henderson from Boston that the proposed limitation was "wholly out of proportion with the hardships which are imposed on other sections of the country."

He asked why Canada "apparently is able to receive more shipments of gasoline for motorists from the United States than we in the coastal states" and said:

"While we do not expect that a 'business as usual' policy can be followed in times such as these, we do expect any necessary restrictions to be imposed by a fair and impartial manner."

Fight Is Promised

At Trenton, N. J., John Dressler, president of the New Jersey Gasoline Retailers' Association, declared his organization would fight the proposal. He contended that rationing should be handled by dealers.

Collaborating with Henderson in the strongly-worded summary of policy were Donald M. Nelson, W.P.B. chairman, Petroleum Coordinator Ickes, Chairman Emory S. Land of the maritime commission, and Defense Transportation Director Joseph B. Eastman.

"Already hundreds of men have lost their lives at sea trying to bring in the oil needed for war," their statement said. "No patriotic American can or will ask men to risk their lives to preserve motoring-as-usual."

The "meal-ticket" ration system beginning next month will operate for 45 days, and will be supplemented

Ulster Gets Air Raid Alert Flash

'Yellow' Signal Is Received at Sheriff's Office as Dress Rehearsal

An "alert" air raid signal was flashed to the Ulster county control center at 9:15 o'clock last night, putting in motion the elaborate system planned for protecting the county in the event of an air raid. The "yellow" flash came as a test and immediately the county and city control centers went into action notifying the air raid workers in both city and county.

A half hour later the second warning "blue" light signal was flashed. This is the signal which indicates that it may be necessary to sound an air raid alarm on the warning systems. However no "red" alarm was sent in and at 9:30 the all clear "white" signal was flashed bringing to a halt the test.

The "alert" came as a surprise to the air raid system workers of the city and county. No explanation was made as to why the signal was flashed last night but it is supposed to have been a "dress rehearsal" for the blackout which is scheduled for some time during the week of April 26-May 3 when an area blackout will be staged without previous warning as to day or hour. That blackout will include several counties, including Ulster, Sullivan, Orange and Rockland.

As soon as the "alert" flash came the air raid control centers went into action notifying the key positions throughout the city and county and air raid wardens were notified to be on the alert for further signals.

In several instances air raid wardens went out on the public ways at the initial signal. In Kingston in several wards air raid wardens were on the streets in quick order armed with armbands and patrolling their areas although no public air raid signal was sounded.

Sheriff Howard C. Anderson was in Ellenville when the "yellow" alert signal was given and hastened to his position in the event of any further alarms. At Accord a first aid class was in session and all of the class left immediately on receipt of the "alert" for their homes.

In Kingston all public utility workers were notified, the police, fire and medical departments were called to the alert and city departments were ready for any emergency which might follow. In addition to the regular police force the auxiliary policemen were summoned to duty and that department quickly had 80 extra auxiliary policemen ready.

It is understood that the signal for the "alert" and the following "blue" signal was sent out from the interceptor command as a test.

This is the first "alert" signal which has been flashed in this area since the blackout on March 11 when the last countywide blackout test was held.

Editor Makes Appearance

Washington, April 23 (AP)—L. Perrin Schwartz of Royal Oak, Mich., editor of the weekly magazine "Social Justice," appeared today before a special district grand jury which is investigating foreign propaganda.

They pointed out that fewer than 50 of the more than 400 members opposed the resolution continuing the committee's life for the fourth time since its creation in May, 1938.

Committee's Foes Attempt to Curtail Activities by Hitting Cash

Washington, April 23 (AP)—Foes of the Dies committee girded today for a new fight to curtail its activities, this time by an attack on its financial supply lines.

They were hopeful, but none too confident, of being able to muster enough votes to defeat a resolution appropriating $110,000 to finance the committee until next January 3, the date to which the House recently voted to continue the special body created to investigate un-American activities.

In the absence of Chairman Martin Dies (D., Tex.) who was in Texas, committee attaches said they had no fear that the House would refuse to grant the funds or would reduce them to such an extent that the committee could not operate effectively.

Laval May Turn Isle Over to Japs

Fourth Largest Island Lies Across Allied Communication Lines to India

DeGaullists Held

Hundreds of de Gaulle Followers Arrested, Is Report

By ROGER D. GREENE

(Associated Press War Editor)

A virtual reign of terror on the key French island of Madagascar, with the arrest of hundreds of De Gaulleists, was reported today amid quickening speculation that France's new pro-German Premier Pierre Laval may be planning to turn the island over to Japan.

The world's fourth largest island, Madagascar lies off the east coast of Africa athwart vital Allied lines of communication with India.

"Madagascar is not being defended against Japanese infiltration, and it cannot be defended against Japanese invasion," said dispatches reaching London.

France's new role in the war, particularly her collaboration with the Axis, was sharply emphasized today by a series of developments: The Union of South Africa, a part of the British Empire which would probably be given the task of dealing with Madagascar, broke off relations with Vichy.

It is about 800 miles from Durban, South Africa, to Madagascar.

In London, a British spokesman said "it is now reported that 50,000 tons of French shipping have been taken over by Japan."

High-ranking United States diplomats, it was disclosed, have been newly transferred to Brazzaville, in Free French West Africa, and to Nigeria and Liberia in an evident move to strengthen the U. S. diplomatic front in Africa.

Observers said these stations are usually assigned to newcomers.

In Vichy, Premier Laval himself received the Japanese ambassador designate, Takonobu Mitani.

The Vichy government went to the length of issuing an official denial of Moscow radio reports that German sailors were arriving at the French Mediterranean naval base of Toulon and that French warships were being turned over to Germany.

The statement also denied reports "of a fight between French and German sailors."

Advices reaching London said the mass arrests of Gen. Charles De Gaulle's Free French followers on Madagascar, including members of the island administration, were carried out on orders from Laval.

Agents of the Vichy regime were said to be rounding up all sympathizers of the Free French movement on the island.

In Washington, informed sources again suggested the possibility of a complete diplomatic rupture between the United States and France.

These sources pointed out that the United States' firm policy toward the Laval collaborationist regime has won such support in French circles that five members of the Vichy embassy and consular staff in Washington have already

Dying Captain Sticks to Post

Mortally Wounded at Pearl Harbor, Asks, 'How's Fight Going?'

WASHINGTON—Soon after the battle of Pearl Harbor, the navy, in announcing the death of Capt. Merwyn S. Bennon, pointed out that the officer had declined to leave the bridge of his ship even after his stomach had been laid open by the splinter of a bomb.

In a memorandum issued to the press, it made public an anonymous eyewitness account of Captain Bennon's death.

It read as follows:
"I came out of the conning tower just after the captain had been hit by a splinter of a bomb intended for another ship. He was lying severely wounded and still conscious on the signal bridge, with the top of his stomach laid open.

Anxious About Battle.
"At that time I was the only officer with him and he was very desirous to know how the battle was proceeding and what action our own ship had taken. I kept him informed as much as possible and then, in the absence of morphine, attempted to give him ether.

"I remained with him for about a half hour as he lay there, and later moved him into a shelter under a splinter shield, but he refused to be moved either from the bridge or into the conning tower for protection.

"Later a senior officer arrived and attempted to direct his removal from the bridge, but the captain again refused and remained on the bridge. A pharmacist's mate arrived to administer as much first aid as possible. When all the officers and men on the bridge had been out of the ship, but he refused, and it was necessary, because of the flames, for the officers to take him up to the navigation bridge, just above the flag bridge, where he remained until his body was removed later.

First Thought of Men.
"What he wanted to know most was how the battle was proceeding. He asked two or three times, 'How's the fight going?' His next concern was to get all wounded men off the ship and to have all available men in condition to get on other ships to fight. His first thought was of his men. He was exceedingly pleased to hear what guns were able to fire. He was removed that afternoon.

"He made all of his men go to their stations. A marine who was manning his station on the foretop of a ship alongside saw the captain try several times to get up. The captain, because of his wound, had lost control of his legs and tried repeatedly to get up but was unable to do so.

"There is reason to believe that Captain Bennon died about 11 o'clock on the morning of December 7. He was alone when he died, having resisted all efforts to take him off the bridge and having ordered all officers and men to their stations.

"The pharmacist's mate was with Captain Bennon for a short time, but was ordered away by the captain to take care of others.

"His concern was for the safety of his own ship and particularly his men."

Teachers' College News

The State Teachers College at New Paltz has announced that the selective admission examinations will be held this year on Saturday, May 2, beginning at 8:30 o'clock in the morning (E. W. T.) and continuing throughout the day. The examinations must be taken by all applicants for entrance to any state teachers college which educates teachers for the elementary grades; they do not pertain to Albany State Teachers College which prepares high school teachers.

For the convenience of high school seniors living in the eastern part of the state, the examinations will be held in the high schools at Kingston, Hudson, Liberty, Yonkers, Huntington, Patchogue, and at the State College, New Paltz.

The selective admissions program makes a candidate's eligibility dependent upon (1) graduation, not later than June '42, from an approved four year high school; (2) a record of high school scholarship well above the passing grade; (3) the earning of a commendable rank as a result of the admission tests; and (4) making a favorable impression as the result of a series of personal interviews.

The rise of state normal schools to the rank of teacher colleges offers to the young people of the state an educational opportunity to secure the professional training necessary to become teachers, at a minimum cost. The State Teachers Colleges offer a four-year course of study and grand a collegiate degree. Tuition is free and there are only moderate fees for student activities. The major concern of the teachers colleges is professional; however, they provide a pleasant variety of extracurricular activities in music, art, drama, sports, fraternities, and a well organized program of the social and cultural phases of college experience.

Interested young men and women in learning more about the possibilities of the State Teachers Colleges should consult their local high school principals, or if they wish, write directly to the New Paltz State Teachers College, New Paltz.

Surveying is believed to have originated in ancient Egypt.

Harold A. Sears Fatally Injured

Was Stone Crusher Plant Foreman at Cold Spring

Harold A. Sears, 41, a former resident of Kingston, was fatally injured Wednesday at Cold Spring where he was employed as foreman at the Hudson River Stone Crusher plant. Mr. Sears was taken to the Butterfield Hospital at Cold Spring where he died about five hours after the accident.

Mr. Sears received his fatal injuries when knocked down by a company truck which passed over his body. He suffered severe internal injuries.

With another employee, George Jobick, Mr. Sears was standing near a garage when a truck operated by Antonio Rodino started to back from the building. The driver failed to see the two men and apparently they did not hear the truck as it approached them. The truck knocked down Mr. Sears and ran over his body while Jobick was also thrown to the ground but to one side of the truck.

Jobick was treated at the hospital for a fractured leg and other injuries. At the hospital Mr. Sears' condition was found to be grave and his condition steadily grew worse until he died early Wednesday afternoon.

Mr. Sears formerly resided in Kingston, moving to Fishkill Plains and later to Cold Spring. Surviving is his wife, who was Ruth C. Carson; two daughters, Janet Marie and Caroline; two brothers, Claude S. Sears and John Whitfield Sears, both of Fishkill Plains, and a sister, Mabel, wife of Jacob Osterhout of Stone Ridge.

Funeral services will be held from the A. Carr & Son funeral parlors, 1 Pearl street, Kingston, Saturday morning at 11 o'clock. Burial will be in Fairview Cemetery, Stone Ridge.

Chinese Are Mopping Up Jap Forces Along Irawaddy Sector

On Furlough

PRIVATE RICHARD DAVIS

CHINESE HD
Chungking, April 23 (AP)—Chinese troops are mopping up the last Japanese forces clinging to villages immediately downriver along the Irawaddy from captured Yangon, and the invaders' lines have been pushed back three to four miles south of that area, Burma army spokesman said today.

On the eastern flank of the Burma front, however, Lieut. Gen. Joseph W. Stilwell's Chinese forces have fallen back under intense pressure along the Salween river and up the road toward Mandalay. Fierce fighting continued in the area.

The army spokesman said the Chinese were forced to withdraw north of Pymmana, 150 miles from Mandalay, because of a thrust by the Japanese through the right flank of the Pymmana line at Zeve, 10 miles west of the city.

Frontal thrusts against the Chinese defenses had won the Japanese less than six miles in this area before the flanking attack, the spokesman said.

He declared, however, that the Japanese advance toward Loikaw, on the west side of the Salween river 65 miles east of Pymmana, had been much more rapid.

There the Japanese gained 40 miles in a week, placing Chinese defenders of Loikaw in desperate straits.

A communique said the Loikaw garrison, under heavy assault since dawn Monday, was counter-attacking valiantly in an effort to frustrate an encircling movement by a Japanese column which had fought its way to a point two miles north of the town.

Casualties on both sides were described as heavy in fierce hand-to-hand combat.

In reporting the loss of Pymmana the Chinese said fighting was continuing north of that town, indicating that Japanese were still exerting heavy pressure, but gave no other details.

Local Hotel Room Damaged by Fire
Cigarette Believed Cause of Blaze Starting

Fire in a bedroom on the third floor of Cuneo's Hotel at 618 Broadway, caused an alarm to be rung in from Box 1211, Broadway and Henry street, at 2:35 o'clock this morning. The fire was confined to the bedroom and damage by fire was not heavy. There was also some smoke damage to other rooms on the third floor.

According to the fire department the fire started in the clothing of Michael Condon, who occupied a third floor bedroom. The clothing had been thrown over a chair. The fire from the clothing set fire to the floor covering and there was some smoke.

The probable cause of the fire, according to the fire department, was a cigarette.

At 1:15 o'clock this morning Policeman Peter Minasian while patrolling Crown street saw smoke coming from the cab of one of the McSpirt milk trucks parked in the rear of Sears, Roebuck store. He called the fire department. The fire was confined to the seat cushion in the cab.

The southern flank, in a drive toward the oil-rich Caucasus. Now, according to the Russians, the Germans' preliminary "feeler" thrusts have been crushed and the Nazis forced back on the defensive.

Russian dispatches also reported that on the central (Moscow) front, at Yuhnov, thousands of Nazi bodies had been found when the melting snows uncovered a huge pit in the central square of the town.

Hitler's field headquarters reported "successful" German offensive operations on the northern (Leningrad) and central fronts, and asserted that Finnish troops in Karelia, north of Leningrad, had beaten off 150 Red Army tanks in 10 days with a toll of 14,000 Russians killed.

On the North African battlefield, the cautiously sparring British and Axis armies limited their activities to patrol clashes.

Clinics Scheduled
Dr. L. G. Rymph, health officer of the town and village of Rosendale, has arranged for a free diphtheria and vaccination for smallpox clinic to be held at the following places at the time specified: April 21, Creek Locks school at 10 o'clock. All children from Whiteport and Maple Hill district will meet at their schools at 10 o'clock to be taken to Creek Locks school; April 22, Rosendale village school at 10 o'clock; May 1, Tillson school at 10 o'clock; May 7, St. Peter's school, Rosendale, at 10 o'clock. Dr. Rymph urges all mothers of children over six months of age to take advantage of this opportunity to protect the health of their children, since it is known from previous experience that in times of war the civilian population is grievously affected by various types of epidemics. It is most important that those at home should pay greater attention to the matter of public health.

Henderson Says Sugar Shortage Is Threatened

Washington, April 23 (AP)—Price Administrator Leon Henderson declared today that an acute sugar shortage was threatened in north-eastern states unless wholesale and industrial users in the area acted promptly in purchasing supplies of beet sugar now being offered them.

Rationing of sugar to such users will begin April 28, and O.P.A. anticipates a heavy demand.

Henderson urged wholesalers and industrial users to begin buying immediately against May quotas, pointing out that until sufficient beet sugar is moved into the scarcity areas, no other sugar would be available.

Under the rationing program, restaurants and other food services will be able to obtain 50 per cent of the amount of sugar used during corresponding months last year, or half the amount consumed last month. Bakers, confectioners, bottlers, ice cream companies and dairy products firms will receive 70 per cent of their former consumption.

Henderson said large quantities of beet sugar must be moved into the northeast to meet anticipated demands and that the government had authorized beet sugar processors to begin sales in the area.

"Unless buyers take advantage of the offer to buy beet sugar now they will have no outlet but themselves to blame if a shortage develops," Henderson declared.

Burmese crude oil production in 1940 was about equal to that of Germany and almost triple that of Japan.

JOLTED JAPS

On his safe return from the spectacular American raid on the Japanese in the Philippines, Gen. Ralph Royce said that the Japs subjected to that terrific assault "didn't know yet what had hit them." They were plainly mystified by the sudden appearance and tremendous striking power of the invaders, and showed signs of terror.

"The most important military aspect of the mission," the general suggests, "was the frightening effect on the Japanese morale and the heartening effect on the Americans and the Filipinos still battling strongly on the islands." The shock to the Japanese is especially interesting.

It has been said by psychologists, and apparently verified on the battlefield in this war, that with all their collective courage and drive, the Japanese are liable to hysteria and mental shock when they are cornered or find themselves in unexpected danger. This is where the American troops have an advantage of them. Our men seem at their best in adapting themselves to new and dangerous situations. Such resourcefulness on the field of battle is sure to be a big factor in this war.

WAR AND ADVERTISING

There is something about newspaper advertising which makes it keep on working in spite of competition. The billboard gets the casual glance of the tourist—but if he drives by often, he soon ceases to see it. If he has come from a distance he is interested chiefly in the small, clear signboard which tells him food and shelter are a definite distance away. The radio shrieks and can be tuned out. But the paper's ads are read by people who want to know about things. They are in the wanting-to-know mood when they pick up the paper.

The Canadian government has just proved this all over again. It advertised a great war loan recently and found it heavily oversubscribed in a short time. The cost was very small compared with the number of bonds sold.

The United States now has decided to follow this example. It has created an Advertising Council which is beginning to function.

There is great need for the sale of more bonds and stamps. Newspaper editorial space has been given freely so far, but it is not quite enough. The addition of advertising might be the weight that tips the balance.

BROKEN BONDS

America bids France a mournful good-bye. Ties that have held for a century and a half, since the French people and government helped us in our struggle for freedom, seem broken. We cannot compromise our principles, as France has had to do under duress. Like the British who have been driven reluctantly to rain bombs on their old ally, we apparently must rank them with our enemies.

Our people do not want bitterness and hatred between us, and hope they will understand and accept the position into which our government has been forced by their own false rulers. If Americans are obliged to bomb French cities and withhold food from French children, it is only to check the harm that traitors like Laval are inflicting on their country, and to defend America from such wickedness.

And the French, surely, will understand. No braver thing has been seen in this bitter war than the spirit of French men and women, during British raids, waving their handkerchiefs from the windows in token that they forgive the destruction and death, because they know the bombs come from friends and are meant for their own enemies.

ARMIES ALL OVER

Sixty thousand Poles are campaigning against the Axis in Persia. Such odd geographical mixtures are characteristic of this war. Witness Hindus in North Africa and Americans in Australia.

It recalls the English essayist Macaulay's remark about Frederick the Great of Prussia, a ruler of the Hitler type, but less savage: "In order that he might rob a neighbor

Twenty and Ten Years Ago

April 23, 1922.—Fire damaged residence of Joseph Kopf in Rosendale when an oil stove exploded.

Miss Emma Turner, a veteran member of the public school faculty in Kingston, suffered a stroke as she landed from a steamship in New York after a Mediterranean trip.

Michael De Cicco and Miss Rose Orison, both of Glasco, married.

Miss Betsy Ribsamena and Frank Stone married in Saugerties.

April 23, 1932.—Edward Conlin died in this city.

Six members of the Ellenville High School baseball team were out and bruised when the automobile they were riding in upset near Napanoch. All but two of the injured six ballplayers played in the game later against Kingston High School. Kingston swamped Ellenville by a score of 20 to 7.

Curtis G. Ferguson, retired stone cutter, died in Benedictine Hospital.

REPAIR PROGRAM

The three Rs of destruction—rot, rust and rats—quietly, often unobserved, attack buildings, and even the farmers' crops.

In normal times it is profitable to prevent rot and rust and to kill rats, but in war, when every farm structure has part in the production program, the U. S. Department of Agriculture, there is even more reason for controlling these destroyers. The farmers and their stock must be well housed, and there must be no waste of stored crops if the United States is to have all-out production. To know what control measures are needed, structures engineers of the Bureau of Agricultural Chemistry and Engineering suggest careful inspections now of all buildings so that damage can be repaired or prevented.

The next move, they say, is to make a list of necessary materials and supplies and to procure these at the first opportunity to prevent delays when they are needed later. Another factor is an orderly shop where tools are kept ready to use.

Masonry, carpentry, sheet metal and plumbing repairs usually are subordinated to actual production activity, but they should be planned ahead so as to make work as productive as possible.

Cut 'Japs' in Mexican Ring

Mazatlan, Mexico, (AP)—The world crisis is enacted here regularly on a small, but passionate, scale when fighting cocks of American and Japanese breeds are pitted against each other before crowds of excited Mexican fans.

There is much feeling and heavy betting along the lines of international sympathies. In two spectacular matches "Japs" and "Gringo" cocks battled to the death. Satisfied exclamations and only a few disgruntled faces greeted a clean sweep by the American-bred birds as they swiftly cut their "Jap" opponents to bloody pieces with lightning thrusts of their steel spurs.

whom he had promised to defend, black men fought on the coast of Coromandel, and red men scalped each other by the great lakes of North America."

SENATORIAL ECONOMY

Criticism does accomplish something. Congressmen took to heart the wave of criticism caused by the now-repealed legislation giving themselves pensions. They are looking more closely at projects making life easier for themselves.

A pending appropriation bill contained a provision giving every senator at least one added $1,800-a-year clerk. The Senate in a burst of economy, has sent this back to committee for reconsideration.

Hard-working senators should have help. They do. Considering that so many have used allowances for clerk hire to get their own relatives on the government payroll, most people will be satisfied if senators work a little harder and spend a little less, as the rest of us have to do.

There is a German proverb, "mitgefangen, mitgehangen"—caught together, hanged together. It means that people must be judged by their associates, or in the case of nations, by the rulers they tolerate.

Pierre Laval's name is spelled just the same forward and backward, neatly symbolizing his principles and career.

The fate of this war and our present world may depend on that French fleet at Toulon, in the Mediterranean.

CHRONIC SINUS INFECTION

That surgery is the ideal treatment for acute cases of sinus infection is the opinion of most nose and throat specialists. Proper drainage made possible by surgery, with measures to build up the general health brings satisfactory results.

A method of treatment for chronic sinus infection that is now in general use is the use of ovary extract and also prostigmin which has an action much similar to ovary extract.

However, the X-ray treatment of chronic sinus infection has had many reports for and against it. Some nose and throat specialists report excellent results and others that it has not proved effective in their cases.

The advocates of the X-ray treatment state that the results depend upon the dosage and the intervals between treatments and that if treatment was uniform throughout the country, the results would be uniform.

When 500 members of the Radiology Society of North America met in San Francisco a few months ago, observations on the treatment of chronic sinus infection by X-rays were made by Dr. Ivan M. Woolley of Portland, Oregon.

Dr. Woolley stated, "In eleven years experience no harmful results from X-ray treatment for chronic sinus infection have been seen. The predictions of some that X-ray treatment would complicate surgical treatment have been proved false." This is interesting and gratifying because it has been held by some specialists that the X-ray treatment would leave the tissues in poor condition should operative treatment become necessary.

Dr. Woolley stated that statistics gathered from X-ray observers revealed a general average of 33 per cent cured of all their symptoms, 41 per cent improved, and only 26 per cent unimproved, showing X-ray treatment has a definite place in the treatment of chronic sinus infection.

That 33 per cent was cured and 41 per cent improved in the treatment of this stubborn ailment by X-ray treatment will stir up both patients and nose and throat specialists. More cases will now be treated by this method and the dosage, intervals between doses, will be investigated more fully so that more uniform treatment will be established.

When registered, each registrant must answer, according to General Brown, the following nine questions: (1) Name of Registrant; (2) Place of Residence; (3) Mail Address; (4) Telephone; (5) Age in Years and Date of Birth; (6) Place of Birth; (7) Name and Address of Person who will always know your address; (8) Employer's Name and Address, and (9) Place of Employment or Business.

After a registrant has answered all questions and signed his name to the registration card, he will be given a registration certificate signed by the registrar. This certificate must be in the personal possession of the registrant at all times. Failure to possess the certificate, or to show it to authorized persons, constitutes a violation of Selective Service Regulations and is considered prima facie evidence of failure to register.

Pertinent Facts On Conscription

Only nine simple questions will be asked those men beyond the military ages who register at the Fourth Registration, for classification as to their skills and aptitudes for war production activities. Brigadier General Ames T. Brown, state director of Selective Service for New York, emphasized today.

Every male citizen of the United States, and every other male person residing in Continental United States, or in the territories of Alaska and Hawaii, or in Puerto Rico, other than persons specifically exempted by law, born on or after April 28, 1877, and on or before February 16, 1897, who have not heretofore been registered under the act, must register.

Registration of the individual should require a comparatively short time, General Brown said, pointing out that the registrant will not be asked to fill out a questionnaire but must only answer interrogations about his identity, his place of residence, and his mailing address. Also he will be required to list his telephone, if any; his age in years and date of birth, place of birth, the name and address of the person who will always know his address, his employer's name and address, and his place of employment or business.

It was pointed out that those who register on April 25, 26 or 27 are not liable for military service under the Selective Training and Service Act of 1940, as amended. They will be required later to fill out an occupational questionnaire concerning their civilian qualifications and skills, but that is for the purpose of obtaining information only.

While registration must be conducted as of April 27 to conform to the President's proclamation, General Brown has also announced that registration may be accomplished in New York on April 25 and 26 as well. This advance registration is authorized to avoid interference with war production.

When registered, each registrant must answer, according to General Brown, the following nine questions: (1) Name of Registrant; (2) Place of Residence; (3) Mail Address; (4) Telephone; (5) Age in Years and Date of Birth; (6) Place of Birth; (7) Name and Address of Person who will always know your address; (8) Employer's Name and Address, and (9) Place of Employment or Business.

This certificate must be in the personal possession of the registrant at all times. Failure to possess the certificate, or to show it to authorized persons, constitutes a violation of Selective Service Regulations and is considered prima facie evidence of failure to register.

Roosevelt Is Applying Word 'Survival' to Whole Question of War—Wages, Prices, Profits, Battles

By DAVID LAWRENCE

Washington, April 23.—President Roosevelt's plan to limit profits and curb inflation by a virtual confiscation of all earnings above a fixed per cent is part of a gradual approach to the whole question of survival wages and survival salaries and survival profits.

Mr. Roosevelt likes the name "war of survival" as descriptive of the second World War and it is apparent that he intends to apply the principle at home as well as on the battlefield.

The first organization since Pearl Harbor to come out for the principal of survival profits was the National Association of Manufacturers but the question of what formula should be used to determine "survival" has never been satisfactorily outlined either by the government or by private organizations.

Any horizontal yardstick that cuts across all businesses without regard to the variety of conditions that exist will tend to create confusion and disruption and may have such a devastating effect on the national economy as to retard the war effort.

Thus one company with a large capitalization if permitted to earn six per cent on that capital while 99 per cent of the remainder is taken in taxes by the government, as is reported to be the administration plan, might earn much more than a competitor which has no large capital structure. Many American businesses have grown up by plowing back each year's earnings into the business without issuing new capital stock for every $100 so invested. Unless such companies are permitted to recapitalize on the basis of their present worth in relation to the same types of business with which they compete there is bound to be inequity and hardship.

During the last war, the congress gave the treasury department flexible authority out of which was developed for excess profits purposes what were known then as artificial capital bases. The amount of money invested in developing a business over a long period of years was set up as "capital" on a formula whereby a comparative system of valuation with competitors was used.

Something of the same kind will have to be established this time if fantastic results are not to be forced on some businesses with the possibility that companies in debt may have to default on bonded issues or on bank loans unless they are allowed to pay off debt out of earnings.

Some plan whereby a normal amortization of debt may first be deducted and then a limitation placed on all profits would probably save many businesses from dissolution or bankruptcy.

Broadly speaking the idea of limiting profits and confiscating all above a certain fixed percentage is gaining ground in congress. The idea of taking all profits above the survival level may prove to be the very leverage with public opinion that the administration may feel it needs in subsequently putting a ceiling on wages and putting an end to the agitation for higher wages. If business is put on a survival basis, so must eventually labor be placed on an analogous footing.

It may well be that the President has not felt that he could tackle the wage problem till he disposed of the high salary or high profit question. Certainly once such a drastic limitation is imposed, labor politicians will no longer be able to argue persuasively that wages need not be held down because profits are skyrocketing.

It is said that 350 companies in the United States have $85,000,000,000 of war contracts. Doubtless many of these contracts are farmed out through subcontractors. But it is probable that any rule intended to recapture profits in these war business cases will do extensive damage to non-war businesses which while benefitting indirectly from war business are nevertheless showing no such increase in volume as are concerns with war contracts.

If a surgical operation is to be performed on the national economy by means of profit limitation and something of that kind is desirable in order to form a background for a common sacrifice by all classes, the task is not going to be accomplished by a flat percentage system applied to war and non-war businesses. Something more flexible by way of formula will be needed.

Mail Bags Disappear

Mail bags will disappear despite a close watch, and the latest report on missing mail bags as filed by the Public Accounts Committee of Dublin, Eire, shows 3,326 unaccounted for. Best explanation for the mystery available was that the bags are often used as an emergency covering in wet weather and are then lost. Semi-annual stock-takings have shown a minimum of 2,219 bags missing since November, 1938, with the peak total 4,647 lacking in March, 1939.

Eire Plans Parks

Impressive plans for post-war recreational centers and parks for the cities of Eire were displayed at a recent meeting of the Irish Branch of the Town Planning Institute. Better and brighter cities, boasting of parks and belts of open land, are being planned by the Eire organization. Utilities such as large city markets and school houses are included with parkways and swimming pools in the designs now drawn in the move to improve the facilities of Eire's cities.

Washington In Wartime

By Jack Stinnett

Washington — Week-ends are funny in Washington. For the thousands of civilian government workers, quitting time Saturday is the signal to get out of town. Trains and busses for Baltimore, Philadelphia and New York are jammed.

But for the soldiers at Ft. Belvoir and Ft. Myer in Virginia, and for the sailors at Norfolk, Va., and the Marines at Quantico, the week-end is the time to come to Washington. They pour out of the busses like peas of a pod.

The sad part of the story is that Washington, the nation's capital, doesn't have room for them to sleep. The lucky ones get in at the Y.M.C.A. or one of the service men's clubs. But Saturday night always finds the uncomfortable benches of Union Station lined with woe-begone young men in khaki, blue or marine corps green.

Not that service authorities and private agencies aren't aware of the problem. You don't have to be much of a newspaper reader to know that room of any kind is almost impossible to find in Washington.

Here are some reports from various agencies on a recent Saturday night, when 712 service men found beds, but at least 500 were turned away.

Banquet Is Held

Highland, April 23—The annual father and son banquet in connection with the agriculture department of the Central School was held Thursday evening in the activity room with Samuel Anderson of Attleboro, Vt., as the speaker. Mr. Anderson, a negro, owns and operates a large farm with between 60 and 70 acres in apples. He gave an interesting talk about farming conditions and the negro problems. His father was a slave who came north at the close of the civil war and Mr. Anderson as a successful farmer and fruit raiser spoke with authority on his subject. Edwin Dohman as president of the Future Farmers in the local school was toastmaster. A quartet of John Gruner, Anthony Altizio, Edward DiKoski and Dominic Palladino sang and a humorous skit in which Robert Auchmoody and Edward DiKoski took part with a sound film shown by Arthur Poelma, head of the agricultural department in the school, was "Combat." Members of the organization called upon and who responded were Fred Fowler, Robert Auchmoody, John Gruner, Danny Stokes, Nelson Tiel. There were 70 members and guests and the dinner was served by members of the home economics girls under supervision of their instructor, Mrs. Robert Potter.

Second Front in Europe Is Practical Step

Woodstock, New York
April 21, 1942

Editor, The Freeman
Kingston, New York
Dear Sir:

You printed in your paper last Saturday a very interesting article on military strategy by Paul J. C. Friedlander in which he points out very clearly the dangers of an Axis drive through the Middle East. Such a drive would cut the United States off from her Allies and vice versa and give Hitler the chance to use his favorite tactic of crushing his victims one country at a time. We cannot afford to let this happen.

I was surprised, therefore, by the title of Mr. Friedlander's article, "Where Will the Axis Strike First." As if we can afford to wait for the Axis to strike. It seems to me that the fall of Singapore demonstrated that the best defensive is still a good offensive, despite all the changes of modern warfare.

Last week Secretary of War Henry Stimson said that we were nearly ready to assume the offensive. And War Production Chief Donald Nelson said that the combined production of the Allies was now greater than that of the Axis. Surely we do not have to think any longer in terms of where the Axis will strike at us but rather of where we are going to strike the Axis.

The opening of a second front in Europe is now a practical step, a military necessity for the defense of our country as well as the liberation of the people in the conquered countries. Such a front would crush Hitler between the Russian armies on the East and the British and American armies in the West. The people of Europe would be aroused and strengthened. Hitler would have to abandon his offensive in the Middle East and fight for his life in Europe. We would be striking at the very head of the Axis rattlesnake.

Donald Nelson has said, "We are over the hump in war production." Now we must get over the hump in our thinking and let Hitler and his friends ask themselves where the blow is going to fall.

Truly yours,
(Mrs.) MABEL SINNOCK

Discuss Fate of the Summer Stock Theatres

New York, April 20 (Special)—Robert Elwyn of Woodstock Playhouse, Woodstock, was one of about 40 managers of the "straw hat" summer playhouses who gathered in New York a few days ago to determine what should be done this year, when the prospects of successful operations are below par.

With few exceptions, the convention, which was the first of its kind, stiffened the determination of the operators to reopen this year despite the uncertain war situation and the difficulties sure to be encountered as a result of gas and tire shortages.

Recognizing the prospective difficulties, both Actors Equity Association and the play agents have taken steps to ease the strain. Equity has modified the usual stock contract relieving the managers of certain obligations if faced with the need of a premature closing.

High priced stars have indicated that they would gamble with the operators by playing for small salaries plus a percentage of the receipts.

Archaeologist Completes Job
What archaeologists might be doing some day—Hitler should be allowed to win—in the ashes of Warsaw, Belgrade, Athens, London, perhaps even Chicago, has just been done by an archaeologist in the ruins of a 1,000-year old culture in Ecuador which was shattered by the conquering Incas about A. D. 1490. The Incas used methods which are almost identical with those Hitler employs today.

Donald Culler, a museum curator of South American ethnology and archaeology, returned to his post after five months of rummaging in the ruins of a people known as the Canari. They were conquered by the Incas, who slew thousands of them, looted the rest of their property, and shifted the population from its lands and over the mountains to Bolivia more than 1,000 miles to the south. The Incas then moved their own people into the evacuated country.

Band Leader Sued

Los Angeles, April 23 (AP)—Harry James, trumpet player and orchestra leader, is being sued for $1,155 a month separate maintenance by Mrs. Mary Louise James, who charges cruelty. She said he earns $3,000 a week or more. They were married at Millerton, N. Y., in 1935 and have two children.

Because of the many escapes recently from the Melchor Romero Hospital in La Plata, Argentina, used for confining sick convicts, an official investigation was ordered.

Flashes of Life
Sketched in Brief

(By The Associated Press)
Tip Top
St. Louis—The first marriage in the Tip Toppers Club—whose members must be at least 6 feet 4 inches in height and the women members no less than 6 feet tall—will be Saturday.
Francis J. Weiss, a 6 foot 4 punch press operator, will wed Miss Lois Bryan, 6 feet 1 inch tall, who was a shoe worker. The club was organized in February, 1941.

Rescuer Rags
Chicago—Northwestern Railroad switchmen told how Rags, a little, one-eyed Fox Terrier who rides with the crew, watching out the window of the locomotive cab, suddenly sprang seven feet from the moving train to the ground one night as they approached an underpass.

In the shadows they heard Rags barking and saw him outstretched on the tracks and they halted. Beyond him between the rails lay a man, unconscious.

Let's Talk This Over
Topeka, Kas.—Would the thief just as soon have a durable work horse or a highly productive cow? Farmer Arthur Engler would like to effect a trade with the person who stole his 15 bundles of baling wire.
Priorities preclude Engler's purchase of more wire, and he shudders at the thought of tying his hay with string.

Backfire
Atlanta—An airplane buzzed overhead as a negro yardman raked

a pile of trash into a fire near the home of Mrs. Annie Milam in southwest Atlanta.
Suddenly, wham! trash and grapeshot scattered over a wide area. The yard caretaker fled with the explosion.
No bombs, though. Only an old Civil War cannon shell, unearthed near the site of the battle of Ezra Church, and brought back to life with a bang.

A Closed Session
Seattle—The executive board of the Main Bowl, Inc., a bowling alley and soda fountain establishment, met in the county jail.
They are seeking reorganization under the bankruptcy law.
The president and secretary-treasurer of the firm, both American-born Japanese, are being held in jail for alleged relations with Japan prior to the war.

Or What Have You
Grand Coulee, Wash.—Wanna buy a main street? No? Then, how about a nice beauty parlor, or maybe a fine bank or a pool hall?
The Bureau of Reclamation is taking over the operation of Mason City and Grand Coulee Dam, and will advertise for bids on the town's seventeen business houses.
The little town was occupied by contractor officials during construction of the big dam.

Give 'Em Time
San Angelo, Tex.—Explaining a drop in soldier marriage license applications, an official of the county clerk's office said:
"We have a short slump whenever a group of soldiers leave, because it takes a few weeks for the new units to get acquainted with the girls."

Beauty Aids Do Help!
Kansas City—A bandit, his routine shortened by these beauty gadgets got $3 in a holdup of a beauty shop.
The intruder found Marjorie Bennett, an employee, and her sister, Dorine, in the shop.
Dorine already was tied up—in a permanent wave machine. The bandit tied Marjorie to another chair, and walked out with the cash.

Work of Women's Field Army Gets Praise of Legion

Commendation of the work of the Women's Field Army of the American Society for the Control of Cancer was received here today in a message from Lynn U. Stambaugh, national commander of the American Legion, Indianapolis, by Miss Eleanor Easton in charge of the Ulster county campaign for the control of Cancer.

Commander Stambaugh wrote:
"Cancer wins most of its fights because of failure of men and women to take swift and decisive action as soon as suspicious symptoms develop. The first action should be an immediate examination by a competent physician followed by early treatment, where treatment is indicated."
"To exterminate any dangerous disease we must first learn to recognize it. This is particularly true of cancer. The incidence of cancer can be reduced only in direct ratio to the readiness with which detection is established and treatment begun."

"Education of our citizens, therefore, particularly those in the middle age brackets and up, including veterans of the great war, is of primary importance in fighting this scourge of our physical bodies. In that instructive work the Women's Field Army, sponsored by the American Society for the Control of Cancer, is playing a splendid role. It is spreading information that is tearing the mask of secrecy off the face of this foe of our bodies."

As national commander of the American Legion I commend the fine work of the Women's Field Army. I urge all citizens to enlist in the fight to check the spread of cancer.
"If every citizen becomes the guardian of his personal health, we shall go far toward saving 158,000 American lives that fall each year before the attacks of cancer. The Women's Field Army is providing the necessary type of training. It merits everybody's wholehearted support."

Shaggy Chins Maregh
Rationing of blades and soap has bestirred the march of the shaggy chins across the faces of the male populace of Northern Ireland, according to a Belfast report. The soap situation has routed defenders of a beardless face who have hoarded razor blades for after their destiny has been fulfilled.

A condor can exist without food more than forty days.

Defense Stamps Urged
Use of the one-cent additional stamps now affixed to Mexican mail for funds to fight malaria should be transferred to a defense fund, newspaper owners in the state of Chiapas urged in a recent communication to the Permanent Commission of the Mexican Congress, Mexico City.

Careful Planning Necessary in Home

Keeping Family Clothed in War Takes Skill

Ithaca, N. Y., April 23 — Keeping a family well clothed in wartime is going to take brains and skill, says Julia Strahan of the New York state college of home economics. Clothing needs will have to be planned as never before.

Whether to sew or not to sew is only one of many decisions to be made. "What clothing to make at home and what to buy ready-made should be decided only after careful thought," Mrs. Strahan says.

"A woman should take into account how much time and help she has, what extra work, ordinarily done by the men, she may have to do, how hard or easy it is for her to shop, and what kind of fabrics and garments are on the market, as well as how much skill and interest she has in sewing and how much she needs to economize."

Whether clothes are bought ready-made or are made at home, caring for the present garments to make them last long is important in most households, Mrs. Strahan says.

Mending a moth hole is an act of patriotism if it helps to release material needed for the armed forces. For the same reason, store clothes properly to prevent damage by moths and mildew, wash and clean them skillfully, and remodel, refit, mend and repair the family wardrobe to prolong its wear.

It is important to save not only the clothing materials, but also the health of the persons who wear them. Consideration should be given to warmth, protection from rain or excess of sunshine, cleanliness, comfort and freedom of movement, Mrs. Strahan points out.

Psychologists say there is a link between a person's clothing and his morale, that his poise and efficiency depend somewhat on his "feeling right" about his clothes. The expert opinion is to be well groomed and clothed, and the forget about the way you look. Devote yourself to your work, helping the war effort, your home, your family, your friends.

County Receives Liquor Tax Sum

Various Townships Get Their Allotments

County Treasurer Chester A. Lyons has received from the comptroller the allotment of alcoholic beverage tax to Ulster county for the quarter ended March 31. The total, $53,917.99, is only about $100 less than the total for the last quarter of 1941. The money is distributed to the towns of the county and the city of Kingston as follows:

Denning	$ 185.89
Esopus	2,614.82
Gardiner	816.05
Hardenbergh	202.00
Hurley	948.03
Kingston	121.45
Kingston City	17,714.48
Lloyd	2,351.48
Marbletown	1,575.71
Marlborough	2,350.86
New Paltz	1,744.25
Olive	817.91
Plattekill	1,290.06
Rochester	1,520.56
Rosendale	1,578.81
Saugerties	5,551.84
Shandaken	1,161.80
Shawangunk	1,931.37
Ulster	2,474.17
Wawarsing	5,737.73
Woodstock	1,228.72

Total .....$53,917.99

Allotment to villages, included in the above: New Paltz, $308.15; Rosendale, $138.58; Saugerties, $808.78; Pine Hill, $49.98; Ellenville, $826.17.

WOODSTOCK

Craft Guild Meets

Woodstock, April 23—The first general meeting of the Woodstock Guild of Craftsmen was held at the Art Gallery Monday, April 20. Miss M. Lillian Burke, New York designer, and guest speaker for the day, pictured the development of a home industry with a behind-the-scenes exhibit of hooked rug samples and designs. Using native Canadian talent, Miss Burke and Mrs. David Fairchild worked with backwoods craftsmen of Cape Breton, Canada, and built up an industry that, to date, has sold over $20,000 in hooked rugs. The simple country folk, some of whom have never seen a banana or peach, have developed a new line of soft-toned modern rugs by combining their old European techniques with the smart designs of Miss Burke.

Miss Burke also disclosed that in this country, our government was in need of craftsmen to aid in occupational therapy for hospitals. The Junior League is devoting its efforts to provide necessary teacher aids. Since crafts of all types are of great value for rehabilitation in times of stress, craftsmen are finding that their talents will aid in home defense.

Professor Edman of Columbia said, "As long as people create and are given a chance to create, free men will be kept alive and free." It is no accident, then, that in the totalitarian countries, creative arts have suffered. Dictators want slaves, not men with imagination.

American craftsmen are developing a program to aid the country with their specific abilities. If the Woodstock Guild has its way, there will be no blackout for the arts.

CURLEY QUESTIONED IN DEFENSE INQUIRY

Former Governor James M. Curley of Massachusetts (seated) told the senate defense investigating committee in Washington, D. C., he had resigned as head of Engineers Group, Inc., when he found the firm presented itself as being able to obtain defense contracts. Rayford W. Alley (standing), New York attorney, had testified a number of contractors were swindled when they put up money for contracts they failed to get.

PORT EWEN

Parent-Teacher Meeting

Port Ewen, April 23—The Port Ewen No. 13 Parent-Teacher Association held its regular monthly meeting Friday, April 17, at the Reformed Church Hall. Following the reading of the secretary and treasurer's reports, the report of the Milk Fund for the year was given. Mrs. Edward Mains recommended several coming movie attractions, namely: "To the Shores of Tripoli," dedicated to the 385 Marines who held Wake Island; "Courtship of Andy Hardy"; "Tarzan Against the World"; and "America's New Army," a March of Time selection. The spring conference is to be held at Wappingers Falls on May 16. The theme of the conference is to be "Let's Face This War." A delegate to the conference is to be appointed by the president, Mrs. Burlin Winchell. The attendance award for the month was won by Miss Mary Polhemus room.

The guest speaker of the evening was State Trooper William B. Martin of Highland, whose topic was "Safety for Pedestrians and Bicyclists." Mr. Martin recommended very early training for children in obeying safety rules. He then talked to the boys and girls explaining to them what rules they must obey in walking and riding along the streets. He stressed the importance of pedestrians wearing light colored clothing or carrying a flash light after dark. He also warned the children not to put complete faith in signs, markers and lights but to use caution at all times and so help prevent unnecessary accidents.

Village Notes

Port Ewen, April 23—The Reformed Church choir will meet this evening at 7:30 o'clock.

The senior choir of the Methodist Church will meet this evening at 7:30 o'clock.

Miss Louise Van Aken entertained her card club last evening. In the Ladies' Bowling League this evening team 4 will play team 2 at 6:45 o'clock and team 1 will play team 3 at 8:30 o'clock.

Troop 19, Girl Scouts, will meet tomorrow afternoon at 3:30 o'clock in the Reformed Church Hall.

The Dorcas Society will meet Tuesday evening, April 28, at 8 o'clock in the Reformed Church Hall. The hostesses will be Mrs. Bevier Sleight, Mrs. Ed Cunningham and Mrs. Herbert Christian.

The nutrition class will meet this evening in the Health Center. There will be another session of the Gas Defense School at St. Leo's Hall tomorrow evening at 7:30 o'clock.

Miss Lillian Neice returned from the Kingston Hospital and is convalescing at the home of her brother and sister-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Neice.

HOME BUREAU

Ellenville Unit Starts

Twenty-one women met at the home of Mrs. E. Boyce Terbush, Jr., on Friday, April 17, and officially formed the Ellenville Home Bureau unit.

The morning was spent preparing dinner with special emphasis on vitamins A and D.

Miss Bertha Snyder of Mt. Marion assisted Miss Parsons, county director of Home Bureaus. The afternoon was spent in discussing nutrition and its value to the family after which there was a short business meeting. The following were elected officers: Mrs. E. Boyce Terbush, chairman; Mrs. Addison A. Schuetz, vice chairman; Mrs. Lewis Brooks, treasurer; Mrs. Richard Marchant, secretary.

Sidney Delaney of the New York Telephone Co. showed a short moving picture with sound effects on air raid warnings, especially prepared by that company.

This first meeting was successful and the group eagerly looks forward to their next meeting which will be some time in May. The work being on "Blackouts."

Objectors Dismissed

Notices of dismissal have been handed two teachers at Taranaki, New Zealand, who objected to military service on conscientious grounds. A protest was filed by the Taranaki School Board with the Education Department, however, in defense of another conscientious objector listed by the department who is now in military service overseas.

Legion Concludes Local Blood Bank

Officials Praise Those Who Contributed

The Legion "Blood Bank" established by the Kingston Post 150, American Legion, under the chairmanship of Eugene P. MacConnell for the purpose of donating the vital fluid to the "plasma" desired by the army and navy, is now closed.

The entire list of volunteers who signified their willingness to give a pint of their blood when called upon by the city laboratory, will be turned over to the local volunteer office of the civilian defense in charge of Mrs. Charles de la Vergne, at an appropriate ceremony to be held at the city laboratory Saturday afternoon.

The action on the part of the Kingston Post 150, of the Legion, to centralize this important phase of the "blood bank" activity has brought forth enthusiastic praise on the part of Dr. J. Spottiswood Taylor, director of the city laboratory and of Mrs. de la Vergne, in charge of the local volunteer office of the civilian defense, who are faced with the overwhelming details involved.

Both officials feel that the coordination of this activity, under one responsible office, will not only save time and avoid duplication of calls to the laboratory, but that it will also minimize inconvenience to the patriotic motivated volunteers.

Post Commander Stanley H. Dempsey commended the action of Mr. MacConnell, chairman of the "blood bank" and thanked him for his untiring efforts in bringing this important Legion work to a close.

The Legion's "First Aid Unit" heads this list of donors to "plasma" with Mayor William F. Edelmuth as donor number one. It is followed by other members of the Legion as well as non-Legionnaires.

France Has New Ship

France's first passenger ship built since the war started, the Kairouan, which was launched near Toulon in January, will carry passengers and freight between Marseille and the French colonies in Africa. It provides 1,500-class accommodations for 1,500 passengers. It has a capacity of 1,500 tons of merchandise and can handle 80,000 crates of fruits and vegetables, with 100 tons of perishable foods and 4,000 tons of meat in its two cold storage chambers.

The average annual rainfall in the United States is about 29 inches.

The swastika is generally interpreted as a symbol of the sun.

4 Big Reasons why you'll enjoy A&P Coffee!

1. because it's REALLY FRESH COFFEE
Rushed from A&P's roasting ovens to A&P Stores—still in the flavor-sealed coffee bean. Only when you buy, is it ground—and then exactly right for your coffeepot. Fresh coffee means really fresh flavor!

2. because it's PERFECTLY BLENDED COFFEE!
The blending is done by A&P's experts who know coffee lovers' taste—thus you get the finest possible flavor and aroma.

3. because it's CUSTOM GROUND COFFEE!
Different types of coffeepots bring hot water into contact with ground coffee for different lengths of time. So, it is necessary to have coffee Custom Ground (especially ground) for each type of pot. It takes only a few seconds!

4. because it COSTS YOU SO VERY LITTLE!
A&P controls every step—from planting to you—many extra handling charges and in-between costs are eliminated. So you save money! In fact, thousands save up to 10¢ a pound!

Betty Crocker suggests:

SERVE IT HOT! "Hot foods piping hot, and cold foods icy cold." This is the motto of discriminating hostesses. Soup that's beginning to cool is not appetizing. Heat your soup dishes before the hot soup is poured into them. Serve after everyone is seated at the table.

• EASY NOW to make home-cooked soup—delicious vegetable noodle soup. Our new product gives you all your dry ingredients. It's called "Betty Crocker Vegetable Noodle Soup Ingredients." The package contains seven choice vegetables in flake form, lots of rich egg noodles, and herbs and spices. These ingredients are 99% ready to cook! You simply empty the contents of the package into boiling water, add butter, and simmer it for a few minutes.

• TASTY, TOO, is the soup you make this easy way. It's brimming with garden-fresh vegetable flavors! The vegetables are not pre-cooked when you get them. You cook them, yourself, for the first time. The vegetables are "dehydrated". That is, reduced to low moisture content while fresh and crisp. A process that retains the fresh garden flavors. Our cooking staff tests this product. We think it makes delicious soup. Grand for lunch, supper or dinner.

• ECONOMICAL! Each package of the soup ingredients makes six large bowls of soup, and costs only 10¢. If you try this new product?

Coupuncher's Chili Wafers
Head Lettuce Salad
Upside Down Cake
Coffee Milk

YOUR FOOD—AND NUTRITION

Hearty, substantial food is needed by everyone who works hard, and everyone should be working harder than ever these days. It isn't enough that the food should satisfy hunger. It must supply nutrients essential to build and repair body tissues as well as fuel for energy. Meat in the diet supplies high quality protein, minerals, notably iron, copper and phosphorus, vitamins and calories. The well balanced diet includes a generous amount of meat every day, nutrition experts declare.

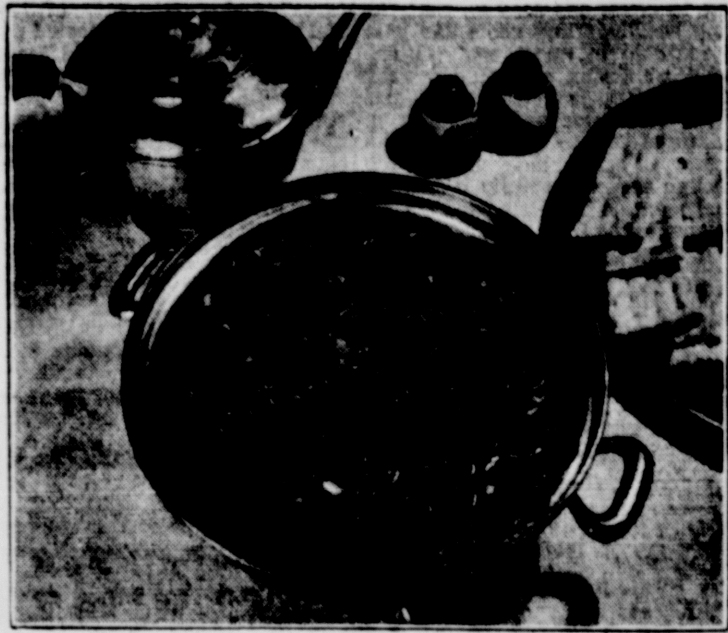

The use of ground beef offers an economical way to serve a variety of substantial, health-giving main dishes. The value of meat in the diet is being impressed upon home-makers by nutrition experts and a generous serving of ground beef contains the protein, minerals, especially iron, vitamins, calories and other food elements so important in safeguarding health. Ground beef is economical because the less tender portions of the animal are used. The grinding makes the meat tender and it can be easily and quickly cooked.

Variety of Ways to Serve
Delicious beef patties, such as broiled hamburgers and meat loaves are the best known ways of serving ground beef, but the home-maker who wants greater variety can find other ways to serve it.

Another Way Out

Denver, April 23 (AP)—Two men, claiming conscientious objections against bearing arms, protested to the State Selective Service headquarters against 1-A classifications. The headquarters staff investigated. Both men had served prison terms for robbery with a gun. Now they are 4-F, exempt from call as felons.

Chili Con Carne Is Hearty Fare

Among the tasty ways to use ground beef is to cook it with red beans and chili powder, and sundry other ingredients—or, chili con carne, to you! This is nutritious as well as satisfying food.

For instance, there's ground beef with red beans and chili powder, known as chili con carne. This is a good dish for many occasions, especially for a large group with keen appetites. Another hearty, easily prepared dish consists of ground beef used as a meat sauce for spaghetti.

Choose the Less-Demanded Cuts
Whatever the style in which you wish to use ground beef, when you go to buy it remember that the less demanded cuts from the more exercised portions of the animal are unusually rich in flavor, as well as lower in price.

For grinding therefore select such cuts as neck, shank or chuck. If the beef is lean, have a little suet ground with it.

Coupuncher's Chili

2½ pounds ground beef
1 cup suet
1 cup chopped onion
2 tablespoons minced garlic
1½ tablespoons salt
3 tablespoons chili powder
3 tablespoons paprika
1 tablespoon cumin seed

3 cups water
2 No. 2 cans red beans

Cook meat in half the suet which has been cooked slowly until slightly brown. Brown the remaining suet and add onion and garlic. Cook until slightly browned. Add meat with all other ingredients except the beans. Cover and cook slowly for three hours. Just before serving, add the beans and cook long enough to heat thoroughly.

Here is a good way to prepare ground beef to serve with spaghetti:

Spaghetti Hamburg

1 pound ground beef
2 tablespoons lard
1 teaspoon salt
¼ teaspoon pepper
3 tablespoons grated onion
1 small can broken mushrooms
2 No. 2 cans prepared spaghetti
Cook the meat in melted lard until it is crumbly and brown but not hard. Add seasonings and mushrooms. Fold in the spaghetti and heat until the flavors are blended. Garnish with buttered carrots.

New Type Corn Is Tapioca Substitute

'Waxy' Variety to Supply Lack of Import

Washington, April 23 (AP)—The Agriculture Department announced today its plant breeders had developed a new type of "waxy" corn as a substitute for tapioca. Because supplies of tapioca have been cut off by the war in the Pacific, the department plans commercial production of the corn next year.

In recent years the United States has been importing about 350,000,000 pounds of tapioca annually to use as adhesives for stamps and envelopes and for puddings and thickening for soups.

The new grain, developed from a specimen of wax-like corn brought to this country years ago by a missionary in China, previously had no commercial value and was grown mainly as a curiosity at several experimental stations. Chemical studies indicated the grain produced a starch similar to tapioca.

Doctors Issue Plea

Members of the Medical Association of South Africa, meeting at Johannesburg, issued an appeal to patients to help them reduce the number of their calls in a move to conserve gasoline. Patients were asked to request visits before 10 a. m. daily to enable planning of calls so that duplicate trips do not have to be made to the same areas. Consultations at the doctors' offices were urged whenever possible. The plea was accompanied by a warning that it will not always be possible for the physicians to make personal calls.

Horses Outrank Men

Horses rate higher than men when it comes to riding the railways in New Zealand. A carload of racehorses were the center of attention when they arrived in Wellington on an express train consisting of day coaches, sleepers and their car. Restrictions are imposed on journeys of more than 100 miles for men, but not for horses. Credentials were scrutinized closely as passengers sifted into the station. "Oh, to be a racehorse," sighed one passenger. "I spent all morning getting a permit to ride to a meeting in Wellington."

Locates Nitrate In Central West

400 Extra Tons Obtained for Farm Use

Ithaca, N. Y., April 23 — Richard F. Fricke, assistant state county agent leader, who has been following priority work closely for the New York state agricultural extension service at Cornell has been able to obtain the diversion of 400 tons of nitrate of soda to New York channels.

Mr. Fricke found a quantity of nitrate in the central West which was not being used.

"Although 400 tons will not meet all the demands," he stated, "it will be of great assistance to fruit growers who need a quick-acting nitrogenous fertilizer."

"This 400 tons of nitrate is an addition to 500 tons previously allotted to New York state fruit growers this month, and is also in addition to 1,500 tons allotted to New York state this month for use by vegetable growers."

"The use of nitrate for explosives and the transportation slowdown has made the nitrate problem very acute," Mr. Fricke stated.

Farmer Gets Jolt

Spokane, Wash., April 23 (AP)—A St. Maries, Idaho, farmer who expected to fight the war between milkings got a jolt yesterday. He appeared for induction and his physical examination urging speed—so he could get home to milk his cows. The induction officer gave him four hours to arrange for care of his stock.

Evacuees Arrive

Oakland, Calif., April 23 (AP)—Thirty-nine evacuees from Hawaii arrived yesterday bound for cities and towns all over the United States and Canada. They are 35 dogs, three cats and a canary. Ralph Nesson of Long Beach, valet for the pets, says some were nervous during the crossing.

Snappy Comeback

Wichita, Kas., April 23 (AP)—Thayer Nelson cranked his car. It was in reverse, and backed rapidly down the street. Nelson chased the car—and was gaining ground. The runaway machine crashed into another car, causing the gear shift to switch into low. The car chased Nelson—and caught him. He's in a hospital being treated for shock.

Explain Vegetable Seed Treatments

Materials Are Listed to Prevent Decay

Geneva, N. Y., April 23 — The kind and amount of chemical seed protectant to use on different vegetable seeds to insure maximum stands in the garden are set forth in a recent publication from the State Experiment Station here and now available upon request. Although not regarded as the final word on the subject, the recommended seed treatments are known to be safe and effective. Lima beans, peas, sweet corn, beets, spinach, cabbage, cucumbers and carrots are covered by the report.

In New York state vegetable seeds are treated either to disinfect the seed that carry disease organisms or to protect the seed from decay organisms that live in the soil, and of the two the seed protectants are much more widely used," says Dr. George L. McNew, station plant disease specialist, in commenting on the seed treatment investigations. "Whenever there is cold wet weather after planting," he continues, "there is usually enough seed decay and damping-off of young plants to cause poor irregular stands. This is especially true of peas, spinach, lima beans, and beets, and to a less extent with corn, cucumbers, carrots and cabbage."

For the past several years, both laboratory and greenhouse tests have been made under way at the station on a large number of chemicals recommended as seed protectants. Whenever a promising material was discovered, it was given a field trial alongside standard treatments. Field tests are usually repeated for several years because of soil and climatic variations, but due to the present urgency for maximum production and for the conservation of labor, equipment, fertilizers and seed, all available information on seed treatments is being made available at once.

In treating large quantities of seed it is recommended that a barrel churn or an oil drum provided with a central shaft and baffle plates be used. The seed and required amount of chemical is placed in the container which is then rotated for four or five minutes at the rate of 25 to 30 revolutions per minute. For small quantities of seed for home use, any tightly closed container, such as a half-gallon fruit jar, will serve the purpose. The object in both cases is to make certain that each seed is completely coated with the chemical.

All the 11,555 passenger cars received at Santos, Brazil, last year were from the United States.

Turf Grasses Are Needed for Lawns

Specialists Warn Growers of Cheap Mixtures

Geneva, N. Y., April 23 — The two things most essential to success in lawn making are the use of a seeding mixture which contains true turf grasses and care in covering the seed with a light layer of soil in which the tiny plants can take root, declare the seed specialists at the State Experiment Station here.

"To hasten to the nearest store and purchase a box or bag of lawn seed, even though the price may be ever so attractive and the picture on the package ever so beautiful, and then to scatter the seed casually about the lawn is not enough," say the specialists. "In fact," they continue, "it usually results in no improvement, because experiments show plainly that the seeds must be at least lightly covered with sufficient soil either raked loose on the spot or, preferably, added as a top dressing to cover the seed so that the tiny seedlings and roots can gain a foothold in moist soil. Otherwise, rain, sun, and wind destroy the small germinating seedlings."

"Another reason why some lawn mixtures fail to produce a satisfactory permanent turf, even though seeded carefully is because they contain so little seed of the permanent lawn- or turf-producing grasses, such as bluegrass, bent, or fescue, along with white clover which is now added to many general purpose mixtures. Kentucky bluegrass seed makes up the greater proportion of the best general purpose mixtures and to check that point the buyer has only to read the required label on the package to see whether it is a good mixture or is just one of those 'special grass seed' mixtures loaded down with a large amount of timothy, ryegrass, and other annual grass seeds."

Analyses made in the station seed laboratory of a considerable number of so-called "lawn mixtures" and particularly of "special grass mixtures" collected upon the open market by seed inspectors of the Department of Agriculture and Markets show plainly that many of them could not possibly produce a permanent lawn because there was so little real lawn seed present. Also, some of them were too foul with weed seeds to be acceptable.

Jury Changes Verdict
After the foreman of a jury in Leeds, England, announced a verdict of guilty against J. B. Morris, charged with stealing 55 yards of cloth, a hubbub of disagreement arose among the jury-men. They retired again, and when they returned they acquitted Morris.

Youth in Axis Air War
London (AP)—The R. A. F., Britain's youngest fighting force turns its back on "Colonel Blimps" to choose officers among younger men. The youngest wing commander is 23 years old and has 22 Axis planes to his credit. The leading night fighter pilot, also a wing commander, is 24. A wing commander over 30 is a rarity. The army rank equivalent to an R. A. F. wing commander is lieutenant-colonel. The average age of station commanders at six R. A. F. fighter stations is 35. One 35-year-old station commander, whose rank is equivalent to colonel in the army, leads his men into combat. He has a bag of eight Axis planes.

She Sees Peace Soon
Mrs. Elizabeth Ranyard, of Market Rasen, England, predicted on her 101st birthday that the war would end before Christmas. She expects her four warrior grandsons to be home by then to share with her in a peace celebration.

She lost her only son in the last war.

BACKACHE, LEG PAINS MAY BE DANGER SIGN Of Tired Kidneys

If backache and leg pains are making you miserable, don't just complain and do nothing about them. Nature may be warning you that your kidneys need attention. The kidneys are nature's chief way of taking excess acids and poisonous waste out of the blood. They help most people pass about 2 pints a day. If the 15 miles of kidney tubes and filters don't work well, poisonous waste matter stays in the blood. These poisons may start nagging backaches, rheumatic pains, leg pains, loss of pep and energy, getting up nights, swelling, puffiness under the eyes, headaches and dizziness. Frequent or scanty passages with smarting and burning sometimes shows there is something wrong with your kidneys or bladder. Don't wait! Ask your druggist for Doan's Pills, used successfully by millions for over 40 years. They give happy relief and will help the 15 miles of kidney tubes flush out poisonous waste from the blood. Get Doan's Pills.

Duchess Has Done Much Good Work In Bahamas Role

Windsor's Wife Becomes Acknowledged Leader in Island's Life; Society Is 'Out'

By FRED L. STROZIER

Nassau, Bahamas, April 23 (Wide World)—The Duchess of Windsor is one of the busiest persons in this little British colony, and therein lies the reason why she and her royal husband have become successful and popular during less than two years occupied of Government House.

Without fanfare, the duchess has made for herself a place in the community life of this colonial capital of 25,000 inhabitants.

Today, after 20 months' activity as wife of the governor, the Duchess is the acknowledged leader of virtually every civic and welfare organization on the island, and her kindly influence reaches down into the lives of even the most lowly subjects of the crown.

The natives will tell you that the Duke and Duchess have outgrown the simple designation of "royal couple" and now are known, in addition, as considerate neighbors, busy administrators of colonial affairs and the most popular couple who ever occupied Government House.

And these natives, who are as British as Piccadilly, give a major share of the credit to the American-born duchess for whom the duke abdicated the British throne more than five years ago.

When the duke and duchess arrived in August, 1940, and he took up his duties as governor of the Bahamas, some of the islanders feared that the duchess might play the role of grande dame on a scale beyond the ken of a provincial empire outpost.

But now they like to tell what she has done for the welfare of babies among the poorer classes—in some cases without the best of medical care and sometimes in conditions of squalor.

It was considered a fine gesture when the duchess paid for erection of two child welfare clinic buildings, one on each end of this island, and when she provided the public nurses with automobiles and bicycles, but her interest didn't end with providing the money.

With thoroughness that won general admiration, she took over the work and pursued it enthusiastically. The clinics are open three times weekly. And the duchess hasn't missed one yet. She watches and helps as each infant is given the benefit of clean, modern surroundings.

But what pleases the people most of all is that she knows the babies by name and by case history. She takes an interest in all. Thus she has accumulated an amazing store of knowledge about the affairs of the island's poorest families.

This humanitarian work takes only part of her time. In addition she is president of the Bahamas Red Cross and, in this job, finds plenty to do.

In her Red Cross capacity, she has her hands full during a recent foray of Axis submarines in Bahamian waters. During three weeks of March, 170 survivors from four Allied vessels reached Nassau.

Under the personal direction of the duchess, each seaman was provided with clothing, food and shelter, and with such essentials as shaving kits, all of which they had lost before reaching shore.

The duke and duchess were on the dock to greet each group and talked with them at great length. The Bahamian people have recognized the duchess' energy and interest in everything in the island.

She is president of the Red Cross, the Nassau Garden Club, the Imperial Order of Daughters of the Empire, the Dundas Center—a welfare group founded by one of her predecessors—and directors of the infant welfare work.

Despite all these activities, the duchess has found time to supervise redecoration of Government House, ancient official residence of the governor, where the duke also has his office.

Society has been "out" for the duration, from a patriotic viewpoint, but the Windsors have attended all sorts of benefit affairs.

The duchess' most recent private undertaking was learning to play golf. She didn't play the game when she came to Nassau and during part of her stay here was not well enough to start.

A few months ago, however, she began taking daily lessons and now can be found on the links most late afternoons, playing with her women friends while the duke—an ardent but inept golfer—plays in another foursome not far away.

Refugees from the parks during a cold spell, 1,000 ducks formed a flotilla on the Thames near Wandsworth, England.

Front Liner—Tough-Guy Timoshenko

FARMER TIMOSHENKO toiled in his native Besarabia until 1915 draft sent him into the Imperial army, to be trained as a machine gunner.

WORLD WAR I found him on the eastern front, and there he beat up an officer, was court-martialed, but saved from prison by the revolution.

AN ARMY CAREERIST by 1921, he fostered modern methods, spent months in the field with troops. Finnish war proved soundness of his theories.

Wide World Features
RUSSIAN HERO in the struggle against the Nazis is 47-year-old Semeon Konstantinovich Timoshenko, one-time peasant boy who rose to one of the three ranking posts in the Red Army. His biggest test may be ahead, since some observers think German spring push aims at his southern lines.

CAN HIS now-seasoned army hold the Germans, and ultimately drive them out of Russia? That's the marshal's big assignment for the summer.

Shirley, 14, Gets Her First Diamond

Says She's Beginning to Get Grown Up

Hollywood, April 23 (AP)—Shirley Temple received her first diamond today, and felt very grown up. It's her 14th birthday.

Father George Temple gave the small gem, her birthstone, in a ring.

"I'm beginning to get grown up," Shirley said, happily. Her once blond curls have deepened to a golden chestnut and she likes them better that shade. She still has her dimples.

But Shirley, a freshman ("I'm going on a sophomore," she insists) at Westlake School for Girls, is really growing up.

"She's a little more independent," explained Mrs. Temple. "That is, she has ideas of her own. For instance, she likes to pick out her own clothes."

"In the last year she has acquired an appreciation for symphony music and we're glad that she has."

It was hard to figure out anything for her birthday, she has so many things.

Mrs. Temple gave her a 17th century butterfly pin in aqua marble, a camera, perfume, and some royal Doulton China figurines, of which Shirley is making a collection.

Shirley is spending the day as quietly as a 14-year-old could with her first diamond gleaming on her finger. After school, she's having a small dinner party for a very few close friends. Her celebration will come this week-end. She and some other girls from Westlake will go to Ojai, Calif., for a tennis tournament.

She entertained nearly 30 children of Latin American consuls at a party last night. The children were guests at Shirley's radio program, then helped her blow out candles on a birthday cake.

She had to study until midnight after she got home.

Great Slide Reported

A great landslide which covers 30 acres and created a 10-acre lake is reported in the Makirikiri Valley, New Zealand. A dispatch from Auckland described the slip, caused by heavy rains, as exceeding anything in the memory of men who have been in the hill country for 60 years. What was formerly a rounded hilltop has been stripped down to a stark cliff by the slide. The hill's sides are now strewn in the shape of an hour glass and spread in indescribable confusion over the valley floor.

PANAMA FOWL PRICE CUT

When chickens began to sell in the public market for as high as $2.50 each, the Panama Government took a hand. To maintain the price of $1.80, the import tariff has been reduced from 50 cents a fowl to five cents, and a limit placed on the number that can be imported.

It is reported in Panama City, Panama produces poultry, but lately has been unable to meet the demand because of boom conditions due to defense expenditures.

Nation's Third Largest City Will Expend $500,000; Might Take Houses in Vital Areas

Philadelphia, April 23 (AP)—The nation's third largest city plans to build 1,000 concrete air raid shelters in a $500,000 program which may entail condemnation of private homes to assure proper construction.

Believed to be the first large-scale effort in the United States to provide underground protection against bombs, a survey will begin immediately to determine location of the shelters, Arthur M. Williams, deputy chairman of the council of defense, announced.

"They will be placed according to population density so that no area will be slighted and will be equipped with the necessary ventilation, sanitation and other needed facilities," he said.

Shelters for this highly industrialized city—repeatedly warned of its vulnerability to attack—are expected to be patterned after those which house London's millions during air raids.

"Tentative plans look to construction of the central city shelters in the basements of large and solid buildings," Williams said.

In outlying sections, vaults are expected to be built under public parks and playgrounds.

Foster Grants Application To File Divorce Papers

Justice Sydney F. Foster has granted an application made at special term last week in Monticello directing that a decree of divorce which was signed in 1939, but not filed in the Ulster county clerk's office at that time, be filed now as of the date back in 1939 when it was granted. The application was made to the Supreme Court by David Copans of Newburgh, attorney in an action for divorce tried in January, 1939.

Mr. Copans in his application to the court states that following trial of the action for divorce brought in 1939 by Corrine C. Stevens, then of Kingston, against her husband, Grantly W. Stevens, a decree of divorce was signed by the court but the interlocutory decree of the court was never recorded. He said that he had turned the matter over to a secretary and believed the decree was filed. Later he discovered it had not been placed on record and he applied to the Supreme Court for an order last week directing that the decree be filed now and dated as of the year 1939. Justice Foster directed that the application be granted and the decree recorded in the clerk's office as of February 25, 1939.

The action for divorce in which it was alleged that the defendant had committed acts in New York City, was tried in January, 1939, and an interlocutory decree dissolving the marriage was granted. The decree and facts and conclusions of law were never filed in the Ulster county clerk's office and that omission was not discovered until recently. The parties were married on June 25, 1927, and lived in Kingston at the time the action was brought.

American Inventive Genius Praised Highly

Memphis, Tenn., April 23 (AP)—America was declared today to have the world's greatest secret weapon—the inventive genius of the American people.

A. I. Elder of the War Production Board in Washington told members of the American Chemical Society at its closing meeting here that "Hitler fears our inventive genius" which has developed the airplane, the tank, the submarine and countless other devices and products.

"Now that we are in the harness again, Hitler knows that improvements in weapons of war will come," Elder declared. He pointed out that the four-engine bombers developed in the United States have not only proven their ability to carry bombs to the Ruhr and to Tokyo but also to withstand heavy attacks by enemy fighter planes.

These developments are obvious, the W.P.B. official declared, but Hitler and Hirohito "know from our past performances that they must expect some secret weapons to appear against him."

Temple Emanuel Services

Services will be held in Temple Emanuel Friday evening, April 24, at 7:45 o'clock. The pulpit will be occupied by Adrian Schwartz of New York, who will speak on "The Laboratories Which Guard Suez."

Mr. Schwartz is an authority on the work of the Hebrew University in Palestine and will discuss its place in the war effort. The public is invited. On Saturday morning at 10 o'clock, youth service and confirmation class will be held in the Temple social hall.

On Monday evening, the Parent-Teacher Association of Temple Emanuel will hold its monthly meeting at the home of Mrs. Meyer Kaplan, 49 Green street.

On Wednesday evening at 8:30 o'clock the adult study group will meet at Rabbi Bloom's residence.

9-FOOT SNAKE FOUND

Safely caged in the Buenos Aires, Argentina, zoo today is a nine-foot, 10-inch deadly snake captured by two men at New Port, in northern Argentina. The reptile was discovered in a wagon of firewood being unloaded at New Port. Zoo authorities sent two well-equipped men to the scene to capture the snake, known as a "lampalague," or American boa.

EIGHT-INCH BABY LIVES

A baby which was only eight inches in length and 13 ounces in weight at her birth on January 16 continues to gain and thrive in Aldridge Northern Ireland, to the amazement of Dr. M. Mulvey, who helped bring her into the world. She is Joan, the twentieth child born to Mrs. Jean McCauley. At the time of her birth, Dr. Mulvey did not expect the tiny girl to live more than a few days.

BEANS NEED WARMTH

In the North, snap beans should not be planted until the ground is thoroughly warm. Successive plantings may be made from that time every two weeks until a few weeks before frost. In the South and Southwest, green beans may be grown through much of fall, winter and spring, but they are not well adapted to midsummer in these areas.

Lima beans should have a growing season of about four months with relatively high temperature. They cannot be planted with safety until a week or so later than snap beans.

Beets Are Easy

Beets are adaptable to most regions, quite resistant to heat and to cold. However, they will not withstand severe freezing. Beets are sensitive to the reaction of the soil, and it is usually wise to before placing plants in them and firm the soil around the roots to insure good contact.

If the sun is hot, shield the plants for a few days to prevent wilting.

Beans Need Warmth

In the North, snap beans should not be planted until the ground is thoroughly warm. Successive plantings may be made from that time every two weeks until a few weeks before frost. In the South and Southwest, green beans may be grown through much of fall, winter and spring, but they are not well adapted to midsummer in these areas.

Lima beans should have a growing season of about four months with relatively high temperature. They cannot be planted with safety until a week or so later than snap beans.

Commando Raid Is Significant As Showing Germans' Strength

England Installs New Primate in Canterbury Rites

Dr. William Temple Says Secular Movement Is Taking World Away From Peace

Canterbury, England, April 23 (AP)—In a solemn ceremony which had its origin centuries ago, Dr. William Temple was installed today as archbishop of Canterbury and primate of all England while 45 bishops, including one from the United States, stood by in sand-bagged, bomb-pocked Canterbury Cathedral.

"If the Christian movement and all hopes connected with it" are to prevail, the Axis must be defeated, the new archbishop declared, as sunlight streamed through the beautiful stained-glass windows which bear the mark of Hitler's bombs.

"It is our duty as Christian citizens to do our best toward winning the war that we may keep open the possibility of a Christian civilization," he said in an address in the ancient cathedral in this bomb-scarred town.

Dr. Temple was named primate of all England last February 22 to succeed Dr. Cosmo Gordon Lang, who resigned January 21 at the age of 78 with a request that he be replaced by a younger man.

The new archbishop has been known as an outspoken social reformer. He formerly was archbishop of York.

Dr. Temple declared that a German victory would mean abandonment of international fellowship "under allegiance to Our Lord."

"This is no guess," he said. "It is the declared policy of the German state and follows of necessity from its principles."

Declaring a secular movement was taking the world farther and farther from "peace and mutual understanding," the archbishop said the present era was marked by "more intense and fiercer competition, conflict and war between larger and larger concentrations of power."

This is no time, he asserted for the church to take refuge, "morally if not physically returning to the catacombs."

The active force of hope for the future is "world wide Christian fellowship," he added.

BABOONS SEEK GOATS

Because baboons are after his goats, Ranger V. Pearson of Mui-zenberg Mountain, South Africa, is forced to maintain continual vigilance. The baboons, protected by law, are sleek and fat but that does not keep them from eyeing Pearson's herd of goats in hope of capturing and milking a stray.

As a result, the shy desperados are on continual watch over Pearson's mountain home.

9-FOOT SNAKE FOUND

Safely caged in the Buenos Aires, Argentina, zoo today is a nine-foot, 10-inch deadly snake captured by two men at New Port, in northern Argentina. The reptile was discovered in a wagon of firewood being unloaded at New Port. Zoo authorities sent two well-equipped men to the scene to capture the snake, known as a "lampalague," or American boa.

EIGHT-INCH BABY LIVES

A baby which was only eight inches in length and 13 ounces in weight at her birth on January 16 continues to gain and thrive in Aldridge Northern Ireland, to the amazement of Dr. M. Mulvey, who helped bring her into the world. She is Joan, the twentieth child born to Mrs. Jean McCauley. At the time of her birth, Dr. Mulvey did not expect the tiny girl to live more than a few days.

Lord Lovat, 30, led British Commandos in a raid on Boulogne on the French coast on the Dover strait. The Commandos spent two hours on French soil, cutting communications and shooting up strong points before withdrawing, with every man.

Chicago's Police Search for Slayer

Officers Say Young Negro Took Care of Store Trade After Killing Proprietor

Chicago, April 23 (AP)—Police hunted today a young negro who coolly waited on grocery trade for more than an hour after he had shot and killed the storekeeper, hacked the body with a meat cleaver and left it lying bleeding in a back room.

"Back in 10 minutes," read a sign the killer posted on the front door before fleeing with money from the cash register in the Bronzeville store of Robert Berg, 38.

This account of the grisly crime was given by Policeman Napoleon Sutton, who obtained it from David Neal, a negro clerk in the store.

The robber, about 21, entered the store yesterday, drew a pistol and ordered Berg (white) and Neal to go to the rear room.

"I've had it in for you for a long time," the youth told Berg. "You don't know what you've done but I do."

"I don't know you," Berg protested. "How could I have done anything wrong to you?"

While the terrified Neal looked on, the robber shot Berg twice in the chest and a third time in the back of the head. Then he forced Neal into the icebox, saying, "I've got something else to do."

When Neal came out of the icebox the killer was slipping a bloody cleaver into a bag. He put on an apron and told Neal to "keep on waiting on customers."

Patrons kept coming in and out and the two men waited on about ten before the last one had gone. Then the robber locked the front door, pinned up the sign and fled through a rear door, carrying the cleaver in the bag.

Berg, married and father of two daughters, had managed the store since 1937 and had owned it for two years.

Britain expects to have 405,000 acres producing sugar beets this year, compared with 350,000 acres in 1941.

Allied Report Tells How Bomber Pilot Aided U. S. Cripple

Craft Hit by Japanese Is Protected and Reaches Port Safely After Pursuit Attack

Sydney, Australia, April 23 (AP)—A report from an advanced Allied headquarters told today of a successful fight by one of Lieut. Gen. George H. Brett's bomber crews against 7-to-1 odds to protect a companion bomber crippled by Japanese zero planes.

The bombers were two of a formation of six attacked by 20 pursuit craft. Damaged by a burst of gunfire, the one dropped to within 100 feet of the sea.

Seven Japanese fighters darted down to finish it off. They were thwarted by the dive of a bomber, piloted by a Lieutenant Stanwood of Rhode Island. He maneuvered his ship protectively above the crippled and the gunners fought off repeated Japanese thrusts.

The gunners shot down three Japanese planes. They were down to their last 24 rounds of ammunition when the assault force withdrew.

Although riddled by bullets, both the crippled bomber and its protector landed safely at their base.

The crippled plane was piloted by Lieut. Bumbarger (full name and address unavailable). Lieut. Paul Ray of Eissa, Okla., was copilot of the protecting plane, whose guns were manned by Lieut. Ralph Harkey of Charlotte, N. C., and Lieut. Joseph Morningside of New York.

The other four bombers in the formation also beat off their attackers and returned safely to their base.

Robert McLean Begins His Fifth A.P. Term

New York, April 23 (AP)—Robert McLean of the Philadelphia Evening Bulletin began his fifth term as president of the Associated Press today while two new vice presidents also assumed office.

Besides re-electing McLean, the AP board of directors yesterday named as first and second vice presidents respectively, Houston Harte of San Angelo (Texas) Standard and Arthur Hays Sulzberger of the New York Times.

Harte succeeded E. Lansing Ray of the St. Louis Globe Democrat. Sulzberger, first New York city publisher to serve as an AP officer or director since the death seven years ago of Adolph S. Ochs of the Times, took the place of Stuart H. Perry of the Adrian (Mich.) Telegram.

The directors, whose election of officers followed the cooperative newsgathering organization's 42d annual meeting, re-elected Kent Cooper, AP general manager, secretary; Lloyd Stratton, assistant general manager, assistant secretary; L. F. Curtis, treasurer, and Alan J. Gould, executive assistant, as assistant treasurers.

The following executive committee was re-elected:

E. Lansing Ray, Stuart H. Perry, Paul Bellamy, Cleveland (Ohio) Plain Dealer, Frank B. Noyes, Washington (D. C.) Star; President McLean; Paul Patterson, Baltimore Sun, and E. H. Butler, Buffalo (N. Y.) News.

Sugar Workers Toil in Harmony

Honolulu (AP)—The annual report of C. Brewer and Company, sugar factors, asserts it was "rather remarkable" that no instances of friction between plantation workers had been reported as the result of the war. Employees include various racial groups, including both alien and native Japanese.

To this allied advantage we must add the encouragement which these raids undoubtedly give to the rising revolt among the French people. That is a very real threat to Hitler, as he clearly indicates in his slaughter of hostages in an effort to stem the sabotage and slaying of Nazi soldiers.

When we also take into account the force onslaught which the Royal Air Force is making on France and Germany, the cumulative offensive should prove of great value to the Russians, who have been urging that the allies create a distraction which would lessen the German resistance on the eastern front. Word that American airmen and Commandos are joining the British in these adventures against western Europe can bring no joy to Hitler. Certainly it keeps him in constant fear of invasion.

Out of all this one would expect to see emerge a real invasion of western Europe by British and American fighting men. That it will come sooner or later there can be no doubt, and we are safe in saying that it will be at the earliest feasible moment.

ENGINEER ACCUSED

Arrest of the engineer of the third section of a train which crashed into a second section, killing two and injuring 32 at Villa Maria, Argentina, has been ordered by investigators. The section signman, Luis Gallardo, was freed after testifying the engineer ran past his danger signals and that he raced 300 yards down the track in a vain attempt to attract the engineer's attention and stop the train.

What's for Dessert?

By BEULAH V. GILLASPIE

SIMPLE desserts, "colorful" desserts, easy-to-make desserts... we need them these days to keep up the family's morale as well as to supply extra nutriment. Here are a couple of parfaits which delight everyone. And you can carry the idea as far as you wish.

RHUBARB PARFAIT
 1/2 pound rhubarb 1 cup corn
 (about 1 1/2 cups of 1/2 inch slices) 1 banana
 Whipped cream

Mix the rhubarb and corn syrup in a saucepan. Cover and cook over low heat until the rhubarb is tender but not too soft. Cool. Fill glasses with alternate layers of the rhubarb mixture and the ice cream. Reserve

6 pieces of drained cooked rhubarb for garnish. Stick in slices of banana, cut lengthwise. Top with whipped cream and garnish with the rhubarb. Six servings.

MOCHA PARFAIT
 1/2 cup corn 1 cup strong syrup coffee
 5 teaspoons 1 teaspoon cornstarch vanilla
 Few grains salt Chocolate ice
 Whipped cream cream

Mix the corn syrup, cornstarch and salt and stir in the coffee gradually. Cook, stirring constantly until thickened. Add the vanilla. Cool, stir well and fill glasses with alternate layers of the coffee mixture and the ice cream. Top with whipped cream. Six servings.

Soldiers' Identification Tags
 The two identification tags which every American soldier carries today contain more information than those used in the World War, much of it medical data which might save the soldier's life in the event he was wounded and unconscious, the war department revealed today.

Instead of the aluminum disc of the World War, which sometimes deteriorated under the action of chemicals and acids encountered on the battlefield, the new tag is made of stainless and rustproof metal. It is two inches long, one and one-eighth inches wide, and 0.025 inch thick, with rounded corners and smooth edges.

The tag carries, besides the soldier's name and serial number—the only data of the World War disc—the name and address of the person to be notified in case of an emergency, his religion and medical data concerning his record of tetanus immunization, the date on which it was completed, and his blood-type.

Inland Cities Helping Navy

Sixteen western Pennsylvania cities are doing their share in helping build a two-ocean navy. Enough steel and iron scrap, in the form of abandoned street car rails, to produce a dozen destroyers or two cruisers is being dug out of streets in the 16 cities for use by Pittsburgh district steel plants working on defense orders.

The scrap is under salvage in conformity with a suggestion by the Office of Production Management that old rails be used to augment dwindling supplies of scrap for the mills. Rail removal projects now under way or planned in the 16 cities will recover an estimated 8,000 tons of iron and steel scrap—enough to produce 17,600 tons of open hearth steel. Largest project will be undertaken in Pittsburgh, where the Pittsburgh Railway company has arranged with the WPA to remove 1,600 tons of track.

Gen. Jackson Decapitated!
 Over a century after he waged successful warfare without injury, Gen. Andrew Jackson was "decapitated" and suffered other minor "injuries" to himself and his mount.

The bronze and iron statue of the warrior and his horse that have reared in the center of Jackson square, the heart of the historic French quarter in New Orleans since 1856, has fallen prey to time. Rust split a front leg of the horse, ate holes in the saddle and nibbled on the legs of Jackson himself.

A group of playful youngsters recently sent the head of the proud general tumbling into the dust. Jackson's head once more, however, gazes over the surrounding scenes and Dr. Robert Glenk, curator of the Louisiana state museum, cleaned the edifice with kerosene, repaired the holes and gave the bronze and iron likeness a coat of paraffin oil to protect it from further destruction by the elements.

Temperance Union Has Area Session

County's 62nd Institute
Held at Milton

Several of the women from Kingston unit of the Woman's Temperance Union took a prominent part in the county's 62nd annual institute held last Friday at the Presbyterian Church in Milton.

Mrs. Lillie S. Shultis of 277 Clinton avenue is first vice president of the county union and was a member of the group who sat on the platform. She was honored with the distinction of writing the best history of New York state submitted from the county. Mrs. James Swift read her paper which will now be judged with those from other counties for the best in the state.

Mrs. Shultis told the delegates how to work the efficiency standards to the best ability in planning programs of work for the year. Her radio broadcasts which are heard on third Wednesday of the month over Station WKNY were the topic of discussion during an executive meeting. She reported on the comments found in letters from all parts of the county which she has received as a result of these broadcasts.

A playlet that conveyed the worth of the "Union Signal" and the W. C. T. U. leaflets was presented with the roles being taken by Mrs. Shultis, Mrs. William Whiston, Mrs. Raymond Hasbrouck of New Paltz and Mrs. Young of Milton and Mrs. Swift assisted by seven Highland women.

Mrs. Shultis as chairman of the committee on resolutions read these to the assembly just before the close of the evening's session.

Named Officer

Mrs. Eliza Keats Young was appointed officer of the day. She led the morning devotions sharing with the institute paragraphs from a California paper that highly commended the war program of the National W. C. T. U. She also spoke of the plans of the state director of evangelistic work to memorize scripture and prayer as necessities for the times and the suggestion for local unions to hold Gospel temperance meetings.

Plans were also discussed for the holding of services Mother's Day in honor of the mothers whose sons are serving in the armed forces. Mrs. Baxter, vice president of the Orange county union gave a number of helpful suggestions for these services.

Mrs. Harlow Parsons of Johnstown was the guest speaker. Both in her afternoon and evening addresses she urged the delegates to complete consecration and surrender to Christian living with the slogan as "Remember Pearl Harbor," being "Remember Pray Harder." She also stressed the passing of the May bill and the enactment of the Sheppard bill in the legislature.

In addition to the regular group singing and solo numbers the Young People's orchestra of the church played several selections. The conference over which Mrs. Emma Carpenter of Walkill, president, presided, closed with the singing of the national anthem.

Scholarships Go To Five Students

Three Juniors and Two Sophomores Named

Ithaca, N. Y., April 23 (P)—The award of four home bureau scholarships and one 4-H memorial scholarship for study at the New York state college of home economics is announced by the college.

Three juniors and two sophomores, all New York state girls, who receive the awards are: Margaret Bell Smith, '43, of Hagaman, winner of the Carrie Gardner Brigidon scholarship; Eloise Mary Clor, '43, of Warsaw, the Martha Van Rensselaer scholarship; Alice Mae Gallup, '44, of Herkimer, the Ruby Green Smith scholarship; and Marcia Ruth Colby, '44, of Spencerport, winner of the Flora Rose scholarship.

The four home bureau scholarships, established by the New York state federation of home bureaus, are awarded each year in recognition of scholarship, leadership and aptitude for extension service.

New York State Carries Out Part In Scrap Program

Albany, N. Y., April 23 — New York state's government, carrying out its pledge of full cooperation in the "Salvage for Victory" campaign has achieved national recognition for its steady contribution of hundreds of tons of scrap material each month to vitally necessary war production.

Whole power plants not in use including the one which formally furnished light and heat for the capitol and other state buildings in Albany have been dismantled. Obsolete cranes used on the Barge Canal have been sent directly to factories to provide the necessary material for the construction of warships. Old sheets, clothing, rubber covered copper cable, tablecloths and discarded flat ware have been collected from the state's institutions and turned back to industry for conversion.

New York state undertook its own salvage campaign soon after the federal government proclaimed the necessity for conserving scrap paper, cloth, metal and rubber as an essential phase of the war effort. In a message to all state departments, Governor Herbert H. Lehman requested each to determine what salvage materials were at hand. The Division of the Budget of which J. Buckley Bryan is director, was designated as the official bureau for the sale and disposal of all such scrap material.

The procedure of disposal is through advertised bids, and awards, the material to be purchased by the highest bidder, sold "as is and where is." At the present time bids are open for approximately 441 tons of scrap iron salvaged by the Division of Public Works. It includes everything from old crusher engines and dredge parts to concrete mixers, guard rails, roller parts and bridge parts.

At the present time approximately 1650 tons of scrap metal which has been sold is being removed from the prisons, hospitals, mental institutions and relief homes of the state. From the vocational schools of the state, all scrap aluminum used in instruction has been collected, resulting in five tons of scrap being sent to foundries in conformance with federal regulations.

On Honorary Committee

Judge Bernard A. Culliton of West Chestnut street has been named a member of the honorary committee for the non-partisan testimonial and award dinner to be tendered Col. Richard C. Patterson, Jr., chairman of the defense savings staff for New York state. The dinner will be held on May 18, in the grand ballroom of the Hotel Astor in New York.

Outgrown Garb Traded

Children's clothing exchanges are to be established in London to enable mothers to outfit the smaller members of their families without coupons and without paying. The chain plan of exchanges has developed from the success of experimental clothing stations operated by the Women's Voluntary Services. Mothers, take clothing which their children have outgrown to stations, and there receive one or more tokens for each garment in accordance with the supply and demand for that type of article.

AMERICAN SCENE

Youngsters practicing on the piano; starting off to school; the birthday cake; bedtime prayers; turkey in November; stockings by the fireplace come Christmastime... all of these and many, many more are the familiar scenes we know. They spell home to us.

For many years your company has been interested in the homes of the Central Hudson Valley—interested in finding new, lower cost ways to serve them in order that all homes might be made more pleasant and livable.

It has led in the improvement of both gas and electric appliances and has been cited again and again by the industry for its progressive work in this direction. Illustrative of this is the development for rural homes of the Automatic Electric Kitchen Service Water Heater and the Nesco Chef for complete low-cost electric cooking—two appliances both low in purchase price and operating cost. For city homes a new-type Automatic Gas Water Heater has been developed and also the Two-Purpose Gas Range, two-appliances-in-one, for cooking and kitchen heating. To many thousands of homes these appliances have brought better living.

In co-operation with the appliance dealers of the Valley new and easier payment plans have been found, notably the Daily Savings Plan, whereby an appliance might easily be paid for through the systematic saving of a few nickels each day. Because of these plans modern appliances have been placed within easy reach of every home.

At the present time your company faces current conditions and current problems. There's a war to be won and many of these activities must be laid aside for the duration. But, basically, your company has been, is, and always will be dedicated to a policy of helpfulness in homemaking in keeping with the American way of life.

A Man's Dress
The best-dressed man in the world today is the man in Khaki, American way. He is right in style, he is No. 1. Among all the dressers beneath the sun. He wears the dress that means for all a manly answer to duty's call: A zip and a pep for things that count. As all around us the dangers mount. Isn't whether his suit may fit, But whether his heart's inside of it; His soul is strong and his will to do. As a whole yard wide and wool all through. He does not have to strut and brag. For even if uniforms were a rag He'd still be dressed in the finest way In the uniform of the U.S.A.

Don't expect the impossible, but co-operate with the inevitable.

There doesn't seem to be any shortage of sugar in the department where the government coats its war bulletins.

Tom—We met by chance. Ann—Yes, it was no more your fault than it was my misfortune.

THINK. Think as you work, for in the final analysis your worth to yourself and to those about you comes not only in solving the problems that some your way, but in anticipating them. An ounce or two of brains can work wonders in leavening pounds of brawn.

Ralph—They're looking for a balloon dancer for the new Broadway show.

Paul—Then maybe you can hire my wife.

Ralph—Oh, is she a dancer?

Detectives for Farmers
New Brunswick (AP)—The low-ly turnip of Tobacco Road and the towering sunflower of Kansas are being pressed into service by the New Jersey Agricultural Experiment Station to ferret out an insidious plant food deficiency which threatens to balk the efforts of farmers to get maximum yields. Scientists have found that these two plants are especially sensitive to lack of boron in the soil. When the soil cannot furnish about one part of boron in four million, or the equivalent of five pounds of borax per acre, plants fail to develop normally. Use of indicator plants, like turnips and sunflowers, has been found a

FROM the front, the Miller house was darkened. As Stephanie raced up the steps, she heard Henri following, cursing under his breath as he missed a step and bumped a shin smartly. She stabbed at the bell, heard its ring echo from the back of the house. She rang several times, insistently. No answer. Then she raised the heavy old bronze knocker, thumped it sonorously.

"That's enough to rouse the whole neighborhood," she said, but still no one responded.

"Probably gone out for the evening," Henri suggested. "Servants too?" and went on knocking.

Finally a sound of shuffling footsteps as of one fumbling blindly. Then silence.

Stephanie called then. "Hello, there! Turn off your lights. And pound the door again. Turn off your lights, I say."

"Aren't you rather making yourself ridiculous," Henri protested finally.

"Ridiculous or not," she muttered and ran down the steps, around to a side door.

As she ran she looked up to the third story again. Still a blazing light like a beckoning finger. No flyer could miss that. The side door was locked too. But this time she had more success. Her frantic knocking finally brought old Mr. Miller himself.

"Well—what is this?" he demanded, peering at her through the darkness.

"It's a blackout, Mr. Miller. And there are lights in the attic. Have them put out, at once."

He hesitated. "Lights? In my house? Well—tsk, tsk—we must attend to that. Come in, young lady. Who?"

Stephanie stepped closer. "Stephanie Merrill—you remember—I live next door."

"Oh, of course." His manner became instantly friendly. "I see you now. Come in."

"No, Thank you. But you will please get that light off, won't you?"

The old gentleman nodded. "Yes, indeed. Certainly."

She said good night, then, and went back to her room. He was waiting, not at all sure that she shouldn't have offered to go to the attic herself and get those lights off. Because apparently the servants were not on duty.

And the light still burned minutes after she had returned to her own porch.

"Well, after all, Stephanie, give the man time to climb two flights of stairs," Henri protested.

"What's become of his whole retinue of servants?" Stephanie wondered aloud.

Henri laughed. "Probably all frightened out of their wits."

All Clear!

SHE shook her head. "Henri, I have a feeling that there is something strangely unnatural about that set-up over there."

"Have you, really? What makes you think that?"

"I don't know. Just—have a hunch."

He laughed again. "You and your hunches. You are tired, my dear, and over-wrought. I assure you Mr. Miller is as American as you."

Still skeptical, Stephanie shrugged. "If he's so loyal an American, how come he lived most of his life in other countries?"

"Circumstances required that. After all, it was his career that took him away."

A long clear blast rode across the strangely silent city and was followed almost instantly by the returning flicker of lights.

"The all-clear" sounded. Stephanie jumped to her feet. "It's over!"

Uptown Circle Sponsors Daffodil Tea at Trinity Church

In keeping with the spring season, the Uptown Circle of the Ladies' Aid Society of the Trinity Lutheran Church chose daffodils as the theme for its tea and entertainment held at the church yesterday afternoon. The tea table was arranged with daffodil favors, yellow candles and decorations in yellow. Mrs. Fred Baechtle, as chairman of the daffodil tea, was assisted in pouring by Mrs. Louis Myers.

The following program was presented for the entertainment:

Songs—"Alice Blue Gown" and "Noddy" by Miss Ruth Shay, accompanied by Miss Sophie Schmidtkonz at the piano.

Piano solos—"Liebestraum" and "Tonight We Love," by William Lahl.

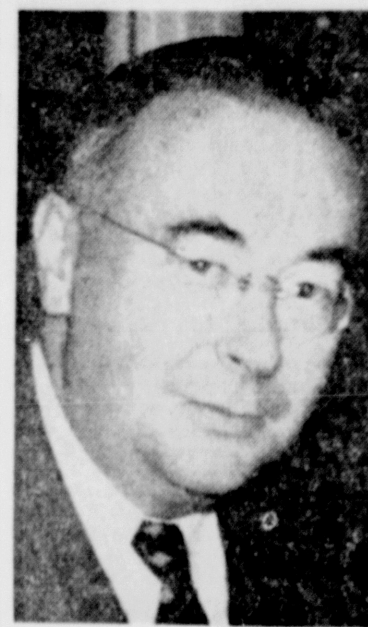

Song—"I'm a Little Teapot," by Miss Sophie Schmidtkonz, accompanied at the piano by William Lahl.

Reading—"As the Moon Rose," by Mrs. Adam Thiel.

Book review—"The Keys to the Kingdom," by Mrs. Frank L. Gollnick.

Is President Of Concert Association

DR. FREDERIC HOLCOMB

Last evening the officers for the year of the Cooperative Concert Association of Kingston were elected at a meeting held at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Allan Hanstein, 192 Clinton avenue. Those chosen for the year are: Dr. Frederic Holcomb, president; Conrad J. Heiselman, first vice president; Mrs. Allan Hanstein, second vice president; Mrs. Eloise P. Lovatt, secretary, and Joseph Craig, treasurer.

The members of the board of directors for this year are the three elected following the last concert, Mrs. C. D. Raymond of Ellenville, Mrs. C. N. Reed and Vernon Miller, and N. Levan Haver, Mrs. C. E. Linden of Woodstock, Leonard Stine, Mrs. George Pratt of Highland, Mrs. Arthur Wicks and John G. M. Hilton.

Business Girls Club Entertains Directors

The Business Girls of the Y. W. C. A. were hostesses last evening to the Board of Directors at a party whose theme was Latin-America. The members of the board this year are Mrs. Ernest Althouse, Mrs. Charles Arnold, Mrs. James H. Betts, Mrs. Ward Brigham, Miss Adiska Conno, Mrs. Theron Culver, Mrs. A. Noble Graham, Mrs. N. LeVan Haver, Mrs. Frederic Holcomb, Mrs. William Kingman, Mrs. Arthur Laidlaw, Mrs. Lloyd LeFevre, Mrs. Ernest LeFevre, Mrs. John MacKinnon, Mrs. Dorr Monroe, Mrs. Charles Ramsey, Mrs. Thomas Reynolds, Mrs. Raymond Rignall, Mrs. George Simpkins, Mrs. S. Maxwell Taylor, Mrs. Henry Terpening, Mrs. Charles Terwilliger and Mrs. Harry Walker.

The tables outlining the room formed a patio arrangement. They were decorated with gay colored Mexican table cloths, candles and colored balloons. Miss Ethel Osterling, president of the club, presided and welcomed the guests. Mrs. A. Noble Graham as president of the board responded.

The program on the style of a fiesta was presented as a floor entertainment. Miss Margaret Schuetz sang a Mexican song, "Marcheta." Miss Verabelle Crisman gave two Spanish dances accompanied at the piano by her teacher, Miss Ottilia Riccobono. Another vocal solo, "Estrellita" was sung by Mrs. Henry Terpening, accompanied by Mrs. William Kingman. Following this a film, "Americans All," sponsored by the Inter-American Committee, showing the life of the people of South America was shown by Raymond Rignall.

Miss Elise Fielder was chairman of the program committee and Miss Edna Skinner and her social committee arranged the decorations and favors at the dinner tables.

Next week the club will sponsor a bridge party at 8 o'clock Wednesday evening, instead of the regular supper meeting. This will be for the benefit of the service fund. Reservations may be made with members of the club or at the Y. W. C. A.

Party for Daughter's Birthday

Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Hughes of 54 Hurley avenue, entertained Tuesday evening at a party in honor of their daughter, Miss Sylvia Ann Hughes, who was celebrating her eighth birthday. Decorations were in pink, green and white. During the evening the guests enjoyed games, and refreshments were served with a large musical cake in the center of the table. Guests were the Misses Nancy Jo Hutton, Eileen Hines, Janet Lyons, Betty Lewis, Elinor Howard, Jean Suppicks, Marjorie Hinkley and Harriet Rimmi and "Pinky" Grady of Rifton. Miss Hughes' teacher, Miss Anna Whalen, also stopped to wish her many happy returns.

Carl Lavs, U.S.N.R. Is Entertained at Party

A farewell party was given in honor of Carl Lavs, who enlisted in the United States Naval Reserve and leaves today for active service. The party was held at the Port Even Reformed Church hall, Tuesday evening, April 21, at 8 o'clock. Dancing, games and refreshments were enjoyed by all. During the latter part of the evening Mr. Lavs was presented with a gift from the Senior Christian Endeavor Society, the Reformed Church choir and friends. Those attending were Mrs. Floyd Beemer, Mr. and Mrs. Otto Lavs, Mrs. George Berens, Mrs. Alfred Lane, the Misses Wilma Lavs, Patricia Lavs, Barbara Ellsworth, Mary Polhemus, Gertrude Beichert, Betty Walker, Florence Clark, Doris Windram, Gloria Windram, Doris Smith, Grace Fairbrother, and Mortimer Mosman. Donald Herring, Donald Newton, Bruce Davis, Kenneth Beemer, Warren Ferguson.

Clarke-Reardon

Miss Helen E. Reardon, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William J. Reardon of Snyder Place, and Francis G. Clarke, son of the late Mr. and Mrs. John P. Clarke of West Chestnut street, were united in marriage at a nuptial Mass in St. Peter's Church by the Rev. Henry E. Herdgen on Saturday, April 18. The groom was attended by his brother, John J. Clarke, of New York, and Mrs. Nicholas Bruce of West Chestnut street, was the matron of honor. Following the ceremony Mr. and Mrs. Clarke left on a wedding trip through the eastern states, and are now at home at 250 West Chestnut street. The groom is employed on the Hiltibrant shipyard and the bride is a registered nurse.

Card Parties

The Choir Mothers of the First Reformed Church will hold a dessert card party tomorrow evening at the church house. Games will start at 8 o'clock. Reservations may be made by calling Mrs. Edwin Lacey at 4499.

St. Peter's Guild

A card party for the benefit of the St. Peter's Guild, Stone Ridge, will be held, Saturday evening, April 25, at 8 o'clock at the home of Mrs. Isaac Graham, Stone Ridge. The public is invited.

MODES OF THE MOMENT

—BY DOROTHY ROE—

TRI-COLOR TAILLEUR. Gray, vine and blue are combined in this suave town suit designed by Jean Schlumberger. Gray jacket, wine skirt and RAF print blouse in blue.

Miller-Blakely

Stone Ridge, April 23—Miss Effie Blakely, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Albert Blakely, became the bride of Sherman Miller, son of Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Miller of Krumville Saturday, April 18, at 6 p. m. in the High Falls Reformed Church.

The bride, who was given in marriage by her brother-in-law, Burton Cudney, wore a white net gown with a modest veil and carried a muff of white roses. The bridesmaid, Miss Virginia Coan, wore an aquamarine taffeta gown and carried a muff of pink roses. Albert Blakely, brother of the bride was best man.

The ceremony was performed by the Rev. D. Ivan Dykstra of Stone Ridge. Mrs. Edward Muller of Stone Ridge sang "O, Promise Me" and "I Love You Truly." The wedding marches were played by Mrs. Ernest Jansen.

A wedding supper was held at the home of the bride's parents. Those present were Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Miller, Mr. and Mrs. A. Crawford and son of Krumville; Mrs. Effie Angus, Mrs. Albert Blakely, William Blakely, Mr. and Mrs. Amos Stokes, Miss Marie Stokes, Mr. and Mrs. Spencer Terwilliger of High Falls; Mr. and Mrs. David Blakely, Mr. and Mrs. Burton Cudney, Albert Blakely, Jr., of Hartford, Conn.; Mr. and Mrs. John Price of Stone Ridge and Miss Virginia Coan.

During the evening other guests were Miss Pearl Williams, Miss V. Crescy, Miss H. Servanawick, Harry Williams, Robert LaPolt, Robert Sutton, Miss Helen Van Demark, Mrs. R. Van Demark, Miss Frances Brooks, Mr. and Mrs. D. Stokes, Mr. and Mrs. J. Davis, Jr., Mr. and Mrs. G. Gerlach, Miss Lang, Miss Dolon, Miss Marie Lang, Mrs. S. Prentice and family, Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Clegg, Miss Jean Clegg, Miss Marion Clegg, Mr. and Mrs. John Lively and family, Mr. and Mrs. Le Krum, George Williams, Jr., Otto Bergerman, George Watts, Richard Terwilliger.

Service Club Plans

Evening of Music

GIVING CHILD NAME OF HIS STEPFATHER IS UNPARADONABLE

Unless the cause is very grave, it is absolutely unforgivable for a child to have the name of his own father set aside and that of his stepfather given him instead. In other words, only when a husband deliberately deserts his wife before the child is born—in short repudiates the child—or when he has discredited his name so as to make it injurious to the child's future, could it be compatible with justice for the child to take the name of his mother's new husband. This answers the question: "When a wife who is divorced, marries again, isn't it all right to change the child's name to that of his new father?"

As already said the answer is "No."

Credit Where It Is Due

Dear Mrs. Post: What sort of explanation should be made, if any, after receiving a note from someone I don't know well who mistakenly thanks me for a most beautiful bed jacket? This lady writes me from the hospital and she tells me she is improving rapidly and is beginning to see visitors. I hadn't known she was in the hospital until I received this note, and I did not send her the bed jacket.

Answer: Write her at once that you are very chagrined to have to tell her that another and more thoughtful friend sent her the jacket but that you hope she will be well enough to see you soon. Do not send her a present now, but in a few days go to the hospital and—if you can afford to do so—take her a few flowers.

Wedding Attendant Not Required To Give Party

Dear Mrs. Post: It is customary and expected that a wedding attendant give a party in honor of the bride?

Answer: It is seldom expected, and it is customary only when one of the attendants of the bride is easily able to do so. A matron of honor who is in the habit of entertaining, or a bridesmaid whose parents can allow her to give a party when she wants to, naturally would choose to give one at this time. But the only obligation of any bride attendant is to provide herself with the costume which is selected by the bride, but paid for by the one who wears it.

Mrs. Post is sorry she can no longer answer personal letters. She is glad however to have many printed slips on a variety of subjects to offer to her readers. Today's slip is "AND FAMILY." Be sure to send a three-cent stamped, self-addressed envelope with your request to Mrs. Post, in care of The Kingston Daily Freeman, P. O. Box 150, Times Square Station, New York, N. Y. Leaflets cannot be mailed unless self-addressed envelope bears correct amount of postage.

Women to Meet

The Women's Missionary Circle of St. James Church will meet in the church parlor Friday afternoon, April 24, at 2:30 o'clock. Mrs. Frederick Snyder will conduct the devotion and Mrs. William Finch will present the program, "The Purpose and Outreach of Foreign Missions." Music will be by Mrs. Edgar Freese and tea served by Mrs. Arthur Quimby and Mrs. Nicholas Hogeboom. The Lenten offering will be taken. This is an open meeting.

Adopt Daughter

Lds. Angeles, April 23 (AP)—Actor Fred MacMurray and his wife, Lillian, have adopted a daughter, Susan Carol, nearly 2 years old.

Avoids Metal

With the scarcity of metal hardware, this dressing table has particular appeal inasmuch as it is designed to practically eliminate the use of any metal hardware with the exception of hinges—even the knobs are turned from wood. It may be finished in any color to harmonize with the bedroom's decorative scheme.

Personal Notes

Mr. and Mrs. E. V. Wilbern of Meadow Side, Saugerties, are spending some time at the Rivera Hotel in Daytona Beach, Fla.

Warren Robinson of Ellenville has been formally initiated into Phi Epsilon Kappa, national physical education fraternity at Ithaca College. His parents are Mr. and Mrs. Elmer Robinson of 7 Essex street and he is a sophomore at the college.

Members of the Kingston Junior Dancing Assembly were among the 100 guests of Mrs. George Ogden and Miss Alma Gumaer at a Circus Cotillion in Middletown, Saturday evening.

Miss Kathryn Dressel, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. George Dressel of 40 St. James street has been formally initiated into the Ithaca College Chapter of Sigma Alpha Iota, national music fraternity for women.

Mr. and Mrs. William G. Newkirk of Albany avenue and Mr. and Mrs. Harry Sweeney of Linderman avenue and friends motored to Madison, N. J., Tuesday to attend a baseball game between Drew University and Hartwick College of Oneonta. William Newkirk, son of Mr. and Mrs. Newkirk, played with Hartwick College in short-stop position and Donald Sweeney, son of Mr. and Mrs. Sweeney, played right field with Drew University. Drew won by a score of 3 to 2 in the ninth inning after the score had been tied in the first half of the inning. The Hartwick College team is now on a southern trip and will play several games while away. Drew University team will start on a southern swing on Friday to meet several college teams.

Miss Vivian Meredith of Allabon, who attends Lake Erie College, Painesville, O., is a member of the trio and chorus of the Junior Revue, a musical comedy to be given at the college Saturday night, April 25. Part of the proceeds of the revue will go to a war relief fund.

Here's a "fightin' food"... Complete recipe for Pillsbury's MEAT and VEGETABLE MEDLEY

1. Scar 2 lbs. cubed raw meat in 2 Tbsps. fat till nicely browned. 2. Remove meat from fat; add 1 c. chopped onions, 2 c. chopped celery, 1/2 c. chopped green pepper; cook till lightly browned and tender. 3. Add 3 c. canned tomatoes gradually to 3 Tbsps. Pillsbury's Best Enriched Flour, 2 tps. salt, 1/4 tsp. pepper, 1/4 tsp. paprika, 1/2 c. corn, drained. Turn into 2 qt. casserole, cover, cook about 30 min. in moderate oven (350° F.). Top with RUSSET TOPPING. 4. Sift and measure 2 c. Pillsbury's Best Enriched Flour. (The harder men work, the more they need B-vitamins! Pillsbury's Best contains two added B-vitamins—more essential than ever in these strenuous days for sound nerves, good appetite, the ability to stand up under hard physical activity—plus iron to help build red blood.) Add 3 tps. baking powder (or 2 tps. double-acting), 1/2 tsp. salt; sift together twice. 5. Cut in 1/4 c. shortening till mixture is like coarse meal. 6. Add 1 c. milk all at once; stir only till flour is damp. Drop by spoonfuls over meat mixture. (These fluffy biscuits will come toothsome and tender from the oven. Your assurance: Pillsbury's Best is baked-proved! 4 to 6 times a day during milling, Pillsbury's Best is given actual baking tests to protect your baking success. ## Ickes Calls 5-Gallon Limit Not Justified

ed about July 1 by "a more elaborate and comprehensive coupon rationing system," O.P.A. announced. Ration cards will be issued each motorist, on presentation of an automobile registration card, during a three-day registration period beginning May 12.

Trucks and commercial vehicles will not be affected. Special provision will be made for doctors, war workers, and other exempt classes. "Normal" gasoline supplies will be allowed persons with vehicles and machinery not operated on highways, although owners of inboard motor boats must obtain ration cards.

The ration card will contain seven squares, each representing an amount of gasoline the cardholder may purchase. As purchases are made, service station attendants will punch, tear off, or mark a square. One or more of the squares—up to the entire seven—may be used up at one time, but O.P.A. cautioned that no additional cards would be issued before the new, permanent ration plan goes into operation in July.

Thus, a person wishing to use his automobile for a vacation trip could consume his entire gasoline quota on the trip—but would have to store away his automobile afterward until new ration allowances are made. Drivers entering the rationing area from other states will be issued ration cards by local rationing boards nearest the border. Eventually, it was understood, a "no sale" belt about 50 miles wide will be established around the ration area to prevent restricted motorists from crossing into other states to buy gasoline.

O.P.A. officials said elementary schools tentatively had been picked as registration headquarters.

Local rationing boards will have supervision over the gasoline program, adding another commodity to the growing list of items which they must distribute. All requests for additional gasoline allowances must be made to the local boards.

States in which the rationing will be enforced are Connecticut, Delaware, Florida, Georgia, Maine, Maryland, Massachusetts, New Hampshire, New Jersey, New York, North Carolina, Pennsylvania, Rhode Island, South Carolina, Vermont, Virginia and West Virginia.

O'Toole Objects

Washington, April 23 (AP)—Representative O'Toole (D., N. Y.) protested in the house today against the employment of baseball players and "punch drunk" fighters in "soft berths" at army and navy training centers as athletic instructors. "It is done in the name of morale, but whose morale?" he asked. "The morale of these professional athletes, themselves, who are determined that they shall serve without the dirt, grime, and discomfort of other men who have given themselves unselfishly."

Bridges Are Swept Away

Trinidad, Colo., April 23 (AP)—Two street bridges were swept away and about 50 business and residential blocks were flooded today in Trinidad's worst flood in 38 years. Fifty families fled from their homes as the Purgatoire river spilled over retaining walls along a twisting channel through the center of this southern Colorado city. No loss of life was reported.

Certificate of Merit Presented

Following is the statement which Mr. Brigham made:

Secretary Stockbridge: It is my proud duty, as general chairman of The Ulster County War Savings Committee, to present to the Rondout Savings Bank this certificate of merit from the Treasury Department of the United States, certifying that your bank is participating to the extent of over 90% (in your case 100%) in the systematic purchase of war savings bonds under the treasury's pay-roll savings plan. Oscar J. Lawatsch, the head of our banking division, is here, and as I congratulate you, I also congratulate Mr. Lawatsch on this fine testimonial of patriotism.

The Rondout Savings Bank has the distinction of receiving the first of these certificates awarded in Ulster county. Any business, 90% or more of whose employees adopt the pay-roll savings plan, is entitled to this certificate of merit; and there will be many more in Ulster county soon.

Army Is Placing Detector Devices All Along Coasts

Stimson Tells of Visit to New Jersey Fort and How Radio Spotter Works

Washington, April 23 (AP)—Secretary of War Stimson reported today the army was "working very hard" to build and place all along the coasts radio detector devices which he said could signal the presence of hostile ships and planes more than 100 miles away. "We already have a lot of them," the secretary told his press conference.

Telling of an inspection trip he made Saturday to Fort Monmouth, N. J., and nearby areas, Stimson said army officers using the secret instruments at a station on the coast "picked up and showed me an approaching plane 60 miles away."

At the Fort Monmouth signal corps training center the secretary said, intense study is being given to the wave echoes of radio as applied to the so-called electric-eye, which he said can see 100 miles or more and warn of danger.

"The device can see at night, through fogs and clouds, and tell the location of enemy vessels or planes," he said.

Stimson also disclosed that despite the urgency of war time military operations army flying was 10 percent safer on the average than in the last decade of peace.

Because a predominant number of accidents are due to the inexperience of younger pilots, he said that as the air forces expand rigid regulations and flying practices would be substituted for experience.

Lieutenant Colonel Samuel R. Harris has been appointed director of flying safety for the air forces, a new post.

Other army developments: To expedite the commissioning of officers for the medical corps, physicians under 45, who have stated their willingness to enter army service and who meet requirements, are to be commissioned immediately by recruiting officers' boards.

Enlisted men of reserve components whose recall to active duty has been deferred only because of dependency may now apply for admission to officer candidate schools provided they have had at least three months active

Poughkeepsie, N. Y., April 23 (AP)—Mrs. Sara Delano Roosevelt, mother of the president, left a net estate estimated at $1,089,872, a New York state transfer tax appraisal showed today.

This figure was reached after deduction of funeral and administrative expenses and debts totaling $38,489. A state tax of $48,431 was imposed.

Mrs. Roosevelt died last September 7 at Hyde Park.

For Sugar Registration

Lester J. Roosa, superintendent of schools for the third supervisory district, comprising the towns of Denning, Marletown, Rochester and Wawarsing, announced this noon that the following places will be open on April 28 and 29 for registration of sugar retailers, wholesalers, and institutional and industrial users. Site administrators, who will pick their assistants, also have been named, as follows: Ellenville High School—Wallace H. Strevel who has selected the hours from 4 to 6 and 7 to 9 p. m., on the dates named. Kerhonkson High School—Clifford Hall who has selected the hours from 4 to 7 p. m. on the dates named. Town Clerk's Office at Stone Ridge—Frederick G. Baumgarten, who has selected the hours from 1 to 7 p. m., Miss Elizabeth Hess, Mrs. Isaac Graham and Mrs. C. F. Sherman will act as registrars at the Stone Ridge office on the dates named.

Sugar Sales to Halt

Washington, April 23 (AP)—O. P. A. officials said today that retail sugar sales would be halted, as originally planned, April 27 and that all retail stocks would remain frozen until consumer rationing begins May 5. The action is designed to prevent a last minute pre-rationing rush and enable retailers to adjust their stocks for rationed sales.

Plans Under Way For Memorial Day

Meeting Held in City Hall by Veterans' Group

Plans for the observance of Memorial Day were discussed last evening at a meeting held in the city hall by members of the Veterans' Association.

James M. Krom, secretary of the association, informed Harry Karnaghan, chairman, and the members of the committee that the Common Council had allocated $1,133.25 for expenses of the Memorial Day exercises. As chairman of the Memorial Day exercises at Kingston Point and at the Municipal Auditorium will be James M. Krom and John Melville will be chairman of the parade committee with Roy Jacob as chairman of the Grave Demonstration Committee.

Exercises at Kingston Point in memory of the soldier-sailor dead who died at sea will be conducted as usual Sunday, May 24, at 3 o'clock in the afternoon. Mr. Krom said. Mrs. Eugenia A. Flicker, who for many years had this service in charge, died recently but the service will be continued as in the past.

Exercises will be held at the Municipal Auditorium on Memorial Day at 8 o'clock. The parade will be held Saturday afternoon, May 30, at 2 o'clock. Arrangements for the parade will be further discussed with Chief of Police Charles Phinney and Mayor Edelmuth, as will be services at Municipal Auditorium. The American Legion Junior Band will participate in the exercises at the auditorium, playing the concert portion of the program.

Members and representatives of the Veterans' Association who were present last night, included Harry Karnaghan, Roy Jacob and Lester Elmdorf of Kingston Post, American Legion; Roswell Coles and Elbert Schoonmaker of United Spanish War Veterans, Camp No. 75; Edward J. Wortman of Joyce-Schrick Post, V. F. W.; Arthur Fox and Frank Stopski of Co. M Veterans Association; James Krom, John Melville and Hiram Woolsey of Union Veterans; Thomas Gorman, Vincent Winter and Henry Kingsburgh of Squad 150 of the Sons of the American Legion.

Price Increase Approved

Washington, April 23 (AP)—A 16 per cent increase in maximum retail prices of new auto tires and tubes—for those permitted to buy them—was approved today by the Office of Price Administration effective Saturday.

Americans Hold Out

In the Philippines, a Tokyo broadcast reported that between 500 and 600 American-Filipino troops were still holding out in the jungles of Mount Baloy, the highest peak on Panay Island, while other last-ditch allied defenders continued to fight on Timor Island in the Dutch East Indies.

A Tokyo broadcast asserted that aside from the holdout fighters on Mt. Baloy, Japanese troops had broken all resistance on Panay Island, in the central Philippines.

An allied communique said briefly: "Our heroes are in contact with the enemy in southern Panay Island."

The Tokyo radio also asserted that Japanese troops on Bataan peninsula, where Lieut.-Gen. Jonathan Wainwright's exhausted armies surrendered on April 9, had captured 53,400 prisoners including 9,533 Americans between April 3 and 20.

The broadcast said the defenders had left 5,000 dead on the Bataan battlefield during that period.

Gen. Douglas MacArthur's headquarters in Australia said Australian and Dutch forces were still battling the Japanese in the interior of the half-Dutch, half-Portuguese island of Timor, 400 miles northwest of Australia. No other details were given.

held east flank of the allied defense line as Lieut.-Gen. Joseph W. Stilwell's Chinese troops slowly fell back under the assault of numerically superior Japanese invasion forces.

The Chinese acknowledged the fall of Pymana, 150 miles south of Mandalay, and indicated that their forces at Loikawa, 65 miles to the east, were in desperate straits. A communique said the Loikawa garrison, under violent assault since dawn Monday, was counter-attacking in an attempt to thwart a Japanese encircling movement, and reported heavy casualties on both sides in fierce hand-to-hand fighting.

On the other end of the Burma front, in the west, the Chinese reported they were holding stoutly after recapturing the town of Yenangyang, in the heart of the burnt-out Yenangyang oil fields. A British communique yesterday said a battle was raging "in and around Yenangyang" after the withdrawal of British troops across the Pinchaung river.

In the battle for the approaches to Australia, Gen. MacArthur's headquarters reported that allied warplanes struck anew at Rabaul, New Britain, bombing docks and shore structures for the second successive day.

Mrs. Annie Searing Dies Wednesday: Celebrated Author

Deceased Also Was Active as Suffragist; Lectured Throughout State, for Women

Mrs. Annie E. P. Searing, widow of John W. Searing, writer, early pioneer in the Woman's Suffrage movement and organizer of the woman's home movement during the last war which later became the Home Bureau organization, died at her home, 142 Pearl street, Kingston, on Wednesday in the 86th year of her age. She was born in Brooklyn the daughter of Francis and Mary Elizabeth Orr Pidgeon. Mrs. Searing's childhood was spent in the Hudson river home of her father, just above Saugerties, now the estate of John G. M. Hilton.

This early environment became later the setting for many of Mrs. Searing's short stories and books. A member of the class of 1878 at Vassar College, Mrs. Searing became a successful author early in her life. Her first novel was published by Putnam in 1885.

Earlier they had published "The Land of Rip Van Winkle", a collection of the legends of the Catskills, now considered an authority on the subject.

Mrs. Searing's short stories and verses appeared during a period of years in Harper's Magazine, the Century, Smart Set, Harper's Bazar, Red Book, Short Stories, Ladies Home Journal, the Delineator, etc. The scene for many of her later stories was Nantucket, where she had a home for many years.

Soon after leaving college, Mrs. Searing was associated with General Charles G. Loring at the Boston Art Museum in the arrangement of the Greek collection, doing particular research with regard to the recently acquired collection of Tanagra figurines. She stayed in Cambridge in the home of Prof. Asa Gray, whose daughter was her friend, and while there met Longfellow, Whittier and others of the great New England tradition.

Brought Notables Here

Her early married life, Mrs. Searing spent in Kingston, where she and her husband were associated with every progressive civic movement. One of the early pioneers of the Woman's Suffrage movement, she brought as guest to her home such outstanding figures as Julia Ward Howe, Susan B. Anthony, Harriet May Mills and many others. She was one of the founders of the Kingston Hospital, and was instrumental in securing for the city its fine library building from the Carnegie Fund. She was for years prominent in the State Charities Aid Association, both in Kingston and later in New York. She was one of the first members of the Ulster Garden Club.

While living in New York, she and her husband were members of the Barnard Club and active in their cultural activities. She was a member of the new National Board of Review for the motion picture industry.

Lectured in State

During the last war, Mrs. Searing became interested in the garden and home canning movement and lectured throughout the state organizing farm women for this purpose. In this connection she was associated with members of the faculty of Cornell University, and, in addition to her organizing work, she conducted a department for rural women in the Ladies Home Journal.

At the end of the war the move-

BABY SON OF PHILIPPINE NAVAL HERO

Mrs. Hilda Bulkley, wife of Lieut. John D. Bulkley, beams over news of her husband's latest exploit in the Philippines as she holds their infant son in her New York home. The son, John D. Jr., was born April 3. Lieut. Bulkley's U. S. Navy torpedo boats are credited with several daring and successful attacks on Japanese warships, and carried General and Mrs. MacArthur on the first stages of their journey from the Philippines to Australia.

ment was continued, and developed on a permanent basis as the Home Bureau organization. Mrs. Searing remained the honorary president of her first Home Bureau, Ulster's.

The work for farm women made a demand for her writings on the subject, and she had departments in the "Farmer's Wife," Today's Magazine, and articles in Country Life in America, House Beautiful, etc. The movement for Home Bureaus became nationwide.

As the war continued, Mrs. Searing wished to be more closely in touch with the men in the army, and when there was a demand for hostesses in camps, she took such a position in Camp Gordon, Ga. Due to her knowledge of several languages, she was enlisted in the service for children of foreign birth in hospitals. Under the Red Cross and the Foreign Born Service of the Y. W. C. A. she acted as liaison between the men and their families at home.

In her later years, Mrs. Searing traveled extensively. Some of her travel journals were published in the Kingston Freeman. About ten years ago appeared her volume of stories for children about her own childhood on the Hudson river, under the title, "When Granny Was a Little Girl." While in Florida in 1940, she collected her published verse and some new verse and brought them out in a volume published at the Rollins College Press.

Mrs. Searing is survived by two daughters, Mrs. William A. Warren of Hurley, and Mrs. Julia S. Leaycraft of Woodstock, and two grandchildren, Anne Leaycraft and Edgar C. Leaycraft, Jr., and a sister, Miss Jeannette S. F. Pidgeon of New York. Services will be held at her late residence, 142 Pearl street, Kingston, Friday at 2:30 p. m.

Enlistment Period

At one time the U. S. Marine Corps had an enlistment period of one year.

During the last four years the pneumonia death rate in the U. S. has been reduced approximately 50 per cent.

Parent-Teacher Ass'n

Highland Unit

Highland, April 23—The large audience attending the Parent-Teacher Association meeting Monday afternoon found the activity room too small so that the auditorium was used for the meeting and program. The children of the first grades through to 3-A went through their parts beautifully to the satisfaction of their teachers, parents and audience. The opening numbers were three songs, "Pretty Pussies," in which the singers carried branches of pussy willows, "Pretty Little Bluebird" and "The Little Showmaker" were motion songs. The grades 2A, 2B, and 2C brought out the snow, rain and flowers acted by the little folks. The Dutch dance with the girls in blue aprons and caps and politely bowing, little boys was worth the applause. Miss Helen Connor's 3B grade sang songs illustrating trees with, "Our Choice," "God's Gift" and the song, "Trees". The Balloon Frolic with the little girls carrying inflated balloons closed the program.

A nominating committee will bring its report at the May meeting with Mrs. Edward Jacobs, Mrs. Martin Coons and Mrs. Anthony Williams to act in that capacity. The corresponding secretary, Miss Eliza Raymond gave the announcement of the spring conference to be held in the Wappingers Falls Central school, May 16, when the address will be given by Mrs. William L. Lefferts, third vice president of the State Congress, a talk by Mrs. Amy Bull of Orange county and the leader to be Mrs. George S. Nichols, sixth vice president. There is to be an organ recital, movie and games. The meeting will be from 9:30 to 3:30 o'clock in the afternoon. The theme of the conference is, "Let's Face This War."

Also announcement of the organization of a County Health Association to take place April 21, in Kingston, and of the gift of a chain store toward the supper, April 28. Mrs. S. A. MacCormac gave the treasurer's report of a

Celebrated Italian Tenor Lived in Two Centuries

Giovanni Battista Rubini was a celebrated Italian tenor, born at Romano, near Bergamo, Italy, April 7, 1795. His father, a music professor, was anxious that the boy be a musician, and at the age of eight young Giovanni sang in church choirs and played the violin in an orchestra. He continued concert work, his first important concert being at Naples, but his career probably dates from his first appearance in Paris in 1825.

Between 1831 and 1843 he sang either in England or Paris, and in 1843 he began a tour with Lieut. through Holland and Germany. After they separated at Berlin, Rubini went on to St. Petersburg where the Emperor Nicholas made him director of singing in the Russian dominions and conferred on him the rank of colonel. He retired in 1844 to a home he had purchased near Romano and when he died there on March 2, 1854, he left a great fortune accumulated from his operatic career.

balance last month of $68.29 and that the Founder's Day collection of $2.25 having been sent to headquarters which left $66.04. Mrs. Frank Simpson stated that the removal of tonsils could be done now and it was the hope of the committee to have the money be a revolving fund. The P. T. A. will pay the cost and the parents return the amount as they can, thus keeping the sum available for more tonsil operations and relieving more children.

The president, Mrs. William Coy concluded the program by reading rules for the bicycle riders to observe and a poem on needs for the war.

The vote for the P. T. A. flag resulted in a tie so that the flag will be two weeks of the coming month in the class room of Miss Ethel Swift and two weeks in Mrs. Martin Coon's room. The May meeting has "Science," as a subject, with John J. Gaffney as chairman.

BEES BLITZ AREA

There were two ambulances of victims after a box fell from a truck near Townsville, South Africa. The box contained a hive of bees. The first victim was a woman driving a sulky. Although badly stung, the driver sought to free her horse only to have the maddened animal bite her. Eight others were badly stung when the ambulances arrived to aid the casualties.

Martin Re-elected At Annual Banquet Of Nocando Loop

Alderman-at-Large John Schwenk Guest Speaker at Schoentag's on Wednesday Night

With 45 bowlers in attendance, the annual second half bowling banquet of the Nocando League was held last night at Schoentag's Restaurant. The function climaxed a successful season which operated at Emerick's Recreation alleys on Wednesday nights.

Following the serving of the banquet, Jack Martin, president of the Nocando League, welcomed all the bowlers to the banquet and expressed a fond desire that all would be in the president at this time next year. President Martin, then turned the meeting over to Jim Norton.

Mr. Norton, city engineer, and captain of the Jump bowling squad winners of the second half, cited the recent cooperation of all the bowlers and the officials in making the 1941-42 season a huge success. Mr. Norton also welcomed all and expressed his appreciation to all who made the league a complete success this year.

Toastmaster Jim Norton then introduced the guest speaker of the evening, John Schwenk, alderman-at-large.

A Wartime Message ...to every American Who Shaves

This is a safety razor blade. It's made of steel. So are bullets and planes and tanks and ships. It doesn't take any more steel to make a good blade than a poor one. The good blade is keener, lasts longer, gives more good shaves per edge.

Moral: Buy better blades, even if they cost a little more. You'll get more and better shaves per blade, AND Save Steel for Uncle Sam

Guests and Officers at Nocando Banquet

Bowlers of the Emerick's Nocando League assembled at Schoentag's Hotel last night for their annual post-season second half banquet with about 45 keggers on hand. Following a turkey dinner and speeches by a few honored guests and officials of the club, the men in the above picture were elected as officers for the 1942-43 bowling campaign. Sitting in the front row from left to right, are Peter Keresman, president of the Kingston Bowling Association; John J. Schwenk, alderman-at-large and guest speaker; Jack Martin, re-elected president and Michael Abadallah, treasurer. In the back row in the same order are Jim Norton, city engineer and captain of the Jump team, winners of the second half; Ken Van Etten, secretary and Al Goldman, vice-president.

Train Million For Arms Work

Ex-Auto Workers Given Special Courses for Armament Program.

DETROIT—This is the story of an important battle that America is winning.

It is the battle to train a million workers to make armaments that our armies will fight with.

The biggest piece of the armament program falls to the automobile industry, which recently stopped making cars and is in the process of conversion to war work.

When it is going full blast again—it is hoped within the "ten silver months" remaining this year—it will near around a million workers, twice as many as there ever were before.

Virtually all of these will have to have had some special training. There is hardly an operation in armament manufacture that will be just the same as one in automobile manufacture, which was so specialized that you had one machine to bore one-eighth inch holes, another to bore one-sixteenth holes; one machine to bore two holes at once, another to bore four holes at once. It takes four times as many operations to make an airplane engine connecting rod as it does to make an automobile connecting rod.

Training a Million.
The scope of training a million people may be compared with the problem that confronted the army at the time of the first draft a year ago.

How are you going to do it? The problem not only has been solved, but the training is under way, turning out workers as fast—except in the highly specialized tool-and-die bottleneck field—as machines can be installed for them to operate.

The General Motors institute at Flint turned out 16,000 last year. Henry Ford has started an airplane engineering school in connection with his Pratt and Whitney engine manufacturing that is training several thousand men and is establishing a school for 8,000 at its Rising Willow Run bomber plant.

But all these projects make only a small dent in that envisioned 1,000,000. The bulk of them will be training products of the very factories where they will work.

The auto companies got going on this program over a year ago, when defense orders first started coming through.

In preparation for General Motors' aluminum fabrication plant, a small group of supervisors was sent to study operations of the Aluminum Company of America plant in Cleveland.

Start Spreading Out.
Another group went to the Pratt and Whitney airplane plant in Hartford, Conn. A hundred men from a Fisher Body plant went to the North American Aviation factory in Inglewood, Calif.

When these groups got back they started spreading out what they had learned.

The last level of training, the biggest job since it involves the biggest number of workers, is accomplished by two principal methods: The "supervisor" system, where a trained man keeps an eye on several novices each at his own machine; and the "trainee" method, where a novice is assigned to an experienced workman at a machine to learn from him.

Here the industry follows its basic mass production principle of breaking a big job down into easily manageable parts, and tackling the parts one by one.

A 30-caliber machine-gun has 265 parts, with an average of 30 manufacturing operations for each part. For speed the work is laid out among as many operators as possible. If one man is performing three operations they see if they can't divide it among three men doing one operation each.

This reduces to a minimum the amount that an operator has to be taught. Teaching him is similarly speeded by breaking down his operation into its essential parts.

About 85 per cent of the world's rice grows in Asia. China produces the greatest amount, but not enough for its own needs.

Always Ready in Field
Mobile 60-inch searchlights of 800,000-candle power, developed by the corps of engineers, U.S.A., and operated by the coast artillery, play a vital role in the nation's aircraft defense, the war department points out. These searchlights are the result of experiments conducted by the corps of engineers over a period of about 20 years. The great lamps and reflectors throw a beam far up into the skies, and with the brilliance that on a fairly clear night, a newspaper can be read by its light five miles away.

The searchlights are carried, ready for instant use, on ballon-tired trailers, capable of transporting them over the roughest terrain without damage, while gasoline motor-driven electrical generators accompany them on separate trailers.

The light is equipped with high-tensity carbons mechanically held and adjusted as they burn. The lights require five men each to operate. They are also used for general anti-aircraft defense.

Standard Bowlers Violets Will Try
Hit New Team High To Defend Three In Colonial League Titles in Relays

Philadelphia, April 23 (AP)—It's New York University against the field in the Penn relays at Franklin Field tomorrow and Saturday as the Violets defended three relay titles in the two-day competition.

A year ago the Violets, anchored by famed Leslie MacMittell, romped off with the sprint and distance medley events and the four-mile relay while finishing second in the mile and third in the 880.

Emil Von Elling, N.Y.U. coach, has announced MacMittell will again run anchor on four races. Tomorrow he will run in the distance and sprint medley and on Saturday in the two and four-mile events. Twelve months ago, MacMittell ran a 4:13.6 mile to win the distance medley and a 1:54.1 half-mile to cop the sprint medley. He won the four-mile title with a 4:09.4 mile and in the one-mile relay did a 48.3 quarter to finish on the heels of Campbell Kane, of Indiana.

War at Sight Is Not Rule in World of Ants
War at sight is not the rule in the ant world, but rather the exception, despite widespread belief to the contrary, declared Dr. Laurence J. Laflour, according to Science Service. When two stranger ants meet, instead of instantly beginning battle, they usually merely back off, turn aside a little and go their respective ways.

"Except when slave-making ants make raids on their neighbors and when spring competition for extra land sows wars, the ants of the Northern states are a peaceful lot," he states in a communication to the American Naturalist.

Even the slave-making species are not necessarily murderous in their raids, Dr. Laflour points out. He cites the observation of the late Prof. William Morton Wheeler of Harvard university, who watched such a raid in progress. Slave-making ants in such raids are concerned only with the pupae, or immature infants, of the species they kidnap and carry off to be their servants. In the attack described by Dr. Wheeler, the marauders, much bigger and stronger than their victims, nevertheless did not kill them, but only carried the defenders out of the nest and set them down outside, uninjured.

Recreations Sign Brooklyn Dodger Rookie for Second Base; After New Pitcher

Club Gets Jack Colucio for Post; Angling for Steve Nagy, Seton Hall Flinger

With the announcement that the Kingston Recreations have signed a new second baseman and are now on the trail of a new hurling star, the full roster of the local club is practically complete. However, a few other players are being "sounded out" before the baseball committee of the Recs make any final decisions.

The new keystone sacker for the Recreations is Jack Colucio, now at Brooklyn College. Colucio appeared at the municipal stadium last year with the Brooklyn Dodgers Rookies. When he was offered to the locals, the Recs didn't take much time in accepting his services.

Colucio will replace the veteran Eddie Sabo at the mid-way bag. Sabo, a resident of Franklin, N. J., is now in the army. Colucio, it is reported, will give the Recs a good infield star on defense and extra batting power.

Meanwhile, the local semi-pro club is dickering for the valuable services of Steve Nagy, former Seton Hall southpaw flinger who ranked as the best pitcher in intercollegiate ball last summer.

Nagy, who went with the Brooklyn Dodgers on their last western jaunt last season, and has received another offer from the National League Champions to go into one of their farm clubs, has rejected the offer. The Dodgers have notified the Recs that they will be satisfied to send the young hurler to Kingston.

Providing the Recreations land Nagy their pitching staff will take on some outstanding power with "Whitey" Tulacz of Poughkeepsie all ready in the fold as a starter and Bill Thomas ready for any relief chores. Tulacz and Nagy would give the Recs one of the best two-man pitching staffs in the district.

The case of "Whitey" Kowalyk remains a secret. Last week the popular Recreation catcher notified the club that he was dissatisfied with terms offered by the Brooklyn Dodgers and said he would like to come back to Kingston. Yesterday Mickey McConnell, head of the Dodger try-out system reported to the Recs that Kowalyk failed to make the grade and had been released.

This puts a different phase on the picture until it becomes definitely known whether Kowalyk will be taken into the army. In this case the Recreations will angling for the services of Bud Mahoney, former Lafayette College catcher who is now the property of the Brooklyn Dodgers.

The Recs, meanwhile, are ready for their first workout of the season which will take place Sunday afternoon at Barmann's Park on Greenkill avenue. This first drill will give Manager Joe Hoffman some idea on his club for the 1942 wartime baseball campaign.

Pirates' Use of Elliott In Infield May Turn Out To Be Prize Experiment

Frisch Hiring Hitting and Fielding in Good Style; Luke Hamlin Hurls to Victory

(By The Associated Press)

The prize experiment of the year in the major leagues may turn out to be the transfer of Robert Irving Elliott from the outfield to third base by the Pittsburgh Pirates.

Manager Frankie Frisch shuffles his lineup almost every day "just for luck" and has not the least hesitancy about switching a player from one position to another. But the shift that brought the Frisco Kid in from the outfield was born of necessity.

Last winter Lee (Jeep) Handley was in an automobile accident and apparently suffered nothing more serious than scratches. But when he reported at training camp in California he suddenly discovered his arm was "dead."

There were the Pirates, thousands of miles from clubs with whom they might have traded, but only a few weeks away from the start of the season. In desperation Onkel Franz canvassed his squad and came upon the 25-year-old Elliott, who six years ago, when he was breaking into organized ball, played part time third base for Savannah in the South Atlantic League.

Here, Frisch decided, was the answer. In two seasons with the Pirates Elliott had indicated he never was going to be any Terry Moore as a ball hawk even though he showed lots of promise at the plate and was good enough last season to make the National League All-star team.

Observers remained skeptical on Elliott, however, until the season actually was underway. Since then he has made everybody sit up and take notice. In nine games he has hit three home runs, to lead the league, and two triples, to tie for the lead.

His batting average is a gaudy .342 and he has knocked in eight runs. Moreover his fielding and throwing have bordered on the sensational after a nervous debut.

Hits Two-Run Homer

Yesterday he contributed a two-run homer to Pittsburgh's 9 to 1 triumph over the Chicago Cubs, whose coach, Kiki Cuyler, said, "we've played both the Cardinals and Reds and I rate Pittsburgh ahead of them so far." In beating the Cubs the Pirates received seven-hit pitching by Luke (Hot Potato) Hamlin, the former Dodger star, and really looked formidable.

However, the Brooklyn Dodgers retained their grip on the National League lead by beating the Boston Braves 4 to 0 in 12 innings. Whitlow Wyatt made his first start of the season after only seven innings of exhibition work. He kept the Braves scoreless for nine innings although touched for ten hits. Then Hugh Casey kept them hitless and spotless the rest of the way. Jim Tobin held the Dodgers to four hits in 11 innings, but in the 12th Pee-wee Reese singled with the bases loaded and the party ended promptly.

Riddle Is Riddled

The St. Louis Cardinals riddled Cincinnati's Elmer Riddle with 11 hits in seven stanzas and triumphed 6 to 1 on the seven-hit hurling of Harry Gumbert, who allowed no runs until the ninth. Rookie Dave Koslo, a southpaw, shut out the Phils 3 to 0 for the New York Giants with six-hit pitching.

The American League saw some more big hitting. The New York Yankees collected 13 safeties, including a home run and two triples by Joe DiMaggio, to overpower the Philadelphia Athletics 11 to 5 and the Boston Red Sox rolled up 17 hits in walloping the Washington Senators 13 to 4.

The Cleveland Indians captured their fourth straight victory 3 to 2 from the St. Louis Browns, who were held to five safeties by their former teammate, Vernon Kennedy. The Chicago White Sox muzzled the Detroit Tigers 3 to 1 with Don Kolloway getting a double and two singles to figure in all Chicago's scoring.

Fox Friend or Enemy?

The question of whether the fox is a friend or enemy to man has been submitted to scientific inquiry by Dr. Adolph Murie, of the federal park service, who studied the diets of the fox during an eight-months period on the 1,200-acre reserve of the University of Michigan, near Pinckney, Mich. Rabbits were found to be the fox's favorite food. This is considered a debit by rabbit hunters, but a credit by orchardists and farmers. The fox was found to catch game birds, but in small numbers, and not during the nesting season.

Offsetting this is his liking for June bugs, the cubs devouring great numbers of them. His catching of mice and lemmings could be either beneficial or neutral. By killing moles and shrews he reduces valuable insect destroyers. He takes muskrats when the water cover for them is very low. Turtle and snake eating is regarded as neutral, except that destruction of snapping turtles is considered beneficial to fish and water birds.

Matches are so scarce in London that people form queues to buy them from street match sellers.

Relays Are Set

Des Moines, Ia., April 23 (AP)—Although many schools have trimmed their sports budgets for wartime economy, officials of the Drake relays opening tomorrow report the games have drawn a field as well-balanced as any in their 33-year history. Top attraction on tomorrow's program, which in addition to nine university and college finals has many preliminaries and high school finals, will be the university sprint medley, the event which produced a world record of 3:23.2 by the University of Texas last year.

Brazil is building bypasses to reduce the length of the Pan American Highway about 250 miles.

Sports Shorts

New York, April 23 (AP)—For the first time since 1930, a new player heads the rankings of the National Squash Tennis Association. He is H. Robert Reeve of New York, who won the national amateur title last season. Reeve was named at the annual meeting last night to occupy the position held for 12 years by Harry F. Wolf of the New York A. C.

Williamstown, Mass., April 23 (AP)—Charley Caldwell, Williams football and baseball coach, has signed a three-year contract to continue his coaching here.

A former three-sport athlete at Princeton, Caldwell came to Williams as football coach in 1928, and took over baseball a few years later. His football team won the Little Three championship last fall.

Sacramento, Calif., April 23 (AP)—Modoc and Lassen county antelope may not feel any better about it, but they are going to be shot at by a select group of hunters. Almost 3,000 California nimrods participated yesterday in the state's first antelope lottery. The 500 winners are permitted to kill one adult buck apiece.

The ban on antelope hunting was relaxed because their number exceeded the supply of natural food.

Lewiston, Idaho, April 23 (AP)—The Pioneer League Boise pilots definitely are allergic to college baseball teams.

Whitman College downed them yesterday, 8 to 7, the same score of their losing tilt Monday with the College of Idaho.

Good Turn Turns Bad

Chicago—An elder white-haired woman accosted Robert Pendarus, Northwestern University student, at a busy intersection and asked him to help her cross the street.

Pendarus, a former boy scout, willingly did his daily good turn. When they reached the opposite side she thanked him and strolled away. Pendarus soon discovered his wallet was missing.

For Highway Safety, Here

Are '12 Commandments'

STATE COLLEGE, Pa.—American automobile operators were provided today with "12 commandments" for blackout driving by Amos E. Neyhart, administrative head of the Institute of Public Safety at the Pennsylvania State college.

Neyhart claims that accident tolls will mount during blackouts unless drivers are extremely cautious.

In listing his 12 "do's and don'ts" Neyhart placed first and foremost the warning "stay home if you can." His rules follow:

1. STAY HOME. Don't drive except for absolute emergency if you are home when a warning is sounded.

2. MASK CAR LIGHTS. If you are in areas where blackouts are likely to occur, keep material for temporary masks in your car.

3. DRIVE HOME. When air raid warning sounds, stop your car at right-hand curb, turn off lights while putting on headlight masks, and drive home immediately.

4. LOCK YOUR CAR. If no masks are available, park your vehicle off main traffic arteries, preferably on private property. Turn out all lights and lock car securely to prevent possible use by saboteurs.

5. ADJUST EYES TO DARK. If you must drive, wait from 15 to 30 seconds for your eyes to become adjusted to darkness.

6. OPEN WINDSHIELD. Regardless of weather, open your windshield if possible.

7. DRIVE SLOWLY AND WITH ALERTNESS. Never drive more than 15 miles per hour. Assume pedestrian doesn't see you.

8. USE YOUR HEAD. Prepare for an emergency stop. Keep well to the right of the road. Passing is extremely hazardous in a blackout.

9. TAKE SPECIAL CARE AT CROSSINGS AND TURNS. Practically stop at intersections. The sides of your car are almost invisible. You can increase visibility by placing white adhesive tape on edge of running board and on fenders.

10. ALLOW FOR BLACKOUT HANDICAPS. Watch carefully for traffic signs and signals.

11. NEVER BLOCK ROAD. Leave extra space near fire hydrants and park at least 25 feet from corners.

12. DIRECT LIGHT BEAMS DOWNWARD. Masks should be constructed as directed by the Office of Civilian Defense and should direct your light beams downward. Avoid leakage of lights.

A Quick Review of the #### Life of Navy Man Perry

Oliver Hazard Perry (1785-1819), American naval officer, was born in Rocky Brook, South Kingston, R. I. Entering the navy as a midshipman in 1799 at the age of 14, he joined his father's ship, the Tripoli.

Greene. He served in the Tripoli war. In 1811 he was married to Elizabeth Champlin Mason and they had five children.

In 1813 he was assigned to the command of Lake Erie and on September 10 engaged the British in the famous battle which resulted in the capture of the entire British squadron and was to be immortalized in Perry's laconic dispatch. "We have met the enemy and they are ours."

Perry died in 1819 of yellow fever at Port of Spain, Trinidad. In 1826 his body was taken to Newport, R. I. and was buried there in Island cemetery.

Over 3,000,000 prisoners of war are now employed in German industry.

Golden Is Honored By Masonic Group

Grand Lodge Pays Tribute to Sixty-Year Member

George C. Golden of 289 Washington avenue, who before retiring a few years ago was identified with the Van Slyke & Horton Co., has been signally honored by the Grand Lodge of Masons of the State of New York by conferring on him a medal commemorating his 60 years as a Master Mason.

Mr. Golden became a Master Mason in Wallkill Lodge No. 627, Walpole, on May 21, 1879, and is a life member of that lodge and is the oldest living member in point of membership of that lodge.

It is interesting to note that he became a member of the Commandery in 1903; joined Cyprus Temple, Order of the Mystic Shrine, in 1904 and the Scottish Rite in 1905. He is a charter member of the Kingston Shrine's Association and has always been active in masonic affairs locally.

Mr. Golden will be 88 years old July 14.

'Fleet' in Points Trend Toward Bigger Musicals

Bigger and better film musicals seem to be the order of the day tonight in Hollywood, with plenty of well-known featured entertainers supporting the stars.

While the country is engaged in the war production and defense effort, music and laughs are vital in building morale, and so CinemaLand is rising to fill the need.

The trend is typified in the new Paramount film, "The Fleet's In," which is checkfull of gobs, gins, gags and tunes, and stars three of the screen's most popular personalities—Dorothy Lamour, William Holden and Eddie Bracken.

Opening Saturday at the Broadway Theatre, "The Fleet's In" boasts an unusual line-up of talent, including Betty Hutton, America's Number One Jitterbug; Betty Jane Rhodes, song stylist; Leif Erickson, veteran of several well-remembered roles; and Jimmy Dorsey and his orchestra, featuring Bob Eberly and Helen O'Connell, vocalists.

"The Fleet's In" offers seven new song hits, many of which are sung by La Lamour herself.

Advancement Favored

Washington, April 23 (AP)—Lieutenant Colonel James H. Doolittle, outstanding flyer, was nominated today by President Roosevelt for advancement to brigadier general, Doolittle, winner of numerous trophies and one-time holder of the world's high-speed record for land planes, has been on active army duty for nearly two years. He was an army flyer in 1917-30. Doolittle is 45 and his home is in Detroit. His present assignment was not disclosed.

Engle Says Stations Will Have to Close

Philadelphia, April 23 (AP)—Half of the 3,400 service stations in Philadelphia will be forced to close within two weeks after rationing of gasoline to motorists begins May 15, A. Reed Engle, president of the Associated Gasoline Retailers of Philadelphia, predicted today.

He said most of the city's dealers have suffered heavy losses since the O. P. A. cut deliveries 33 1/3 per cent several weeks ago.

A spokesman for a large chain of independent stations declared, however, that rationing would prove beneficial to the city's motorists.

"They will be able to do more business with most of the minor competition erased," he said.

Local Death Record

The body of Mrs. James E. Canfield, who died at Schenectady on January 11, is to be brought to Kingston Sunday, April 26, at 2 p. m., for burial in the family plot in Montrose cemetery. Donald D. Everett of Ridgefield Park, N. J., died at his home there yesterday. He is survived by his wife who was Ella Ennis, formerly of Shokan, and one daughter, Virginia, wife of the Rev. Arthur E. Oudemool, pastor of the First Reformed Church of Kingston. The funeral will be held from the parlors of A. Carr and Son, 1 Pearl street, Kingston, Friday afternoon at 4 o'clock with burial in Wiltwyck cemetery.

Mrs. Arvilla Churchwell, widow of Benjamin B. Churchwell, died Tuesday at the home of her son, Ralph, in Wawarsing. She was 78 years of age. Besides Ralph she is survived by four other sons, Elson of Detroit, Mich., Lloyd of Lakehurst, N. J., Howard of Walden, and LeRoy of Bridgeport, Conn., also two daughters, Mrs. Maude Cowan of Lakehurst, N. J., and Mrs. Clarence Hunkins of Lacombe, N. H., 15 grandchildren and four great-grandchildren. Funeral services will be held in the H. B. Humiston Funeral Home in Kerhonkson Friday afternoon at 2:30 o'clock. Burial will be in Pine Bush cemetery near Kerhonkson. The Rev. Douglas Fletcher will officiate. Bearers will be relatives.

Saugerties Has Session On Plans for By-Pass

Following the submission to Senator Wicks of a petition containing some 500 names asking for reconsideration of the action approving the by-passing of Saugerties to the west and the location of Route 9-W to the east of the village, the matter came up for discussion at a special meeting of the Saugerties Chamber of Commerce Wednesday night.

Members finally approved the naming of a committee, of which George J. Mutari is the chairman, which will keep in touch with the situation and if possible secure the approval of the route running to the east of the village.

Both the War Department and the State Highway Department have favored the western route and some time since the objectors finally agreed to stand for the western by-pass. One of the officials of the organization said this morning that objections had been laid aside at that time, because it was understood that the War Department wanted that route and that indications were that the road was to be built in the near future. However, he said, he and many other members still believed that the road should by-pass the village on the east.

The Chamber of Commerce also passed a resolution asking the Ulster county Board of Supervisors to make an appropriation for the purpose of advertising the advantages of the county for both summer and winter resort purposes.

War Plant Guards Being Aided by Clever Robots

Tiny robot sentries, many times more efficient than men in storm, fog and darkness, are now aiding human guards along the miles of high wire fences that enclose some of the country's greatest war-production plants.

Six months of tests under every conceivable condition were said to have proved the new sentry system to be the most efficient yet devised, with the robots "hearing" even the whisper of a person, the snap of a wire-cutter or the sound of a pick, and relaying these warning sounds instantly to the human watchman at his post or to a central guard station inside the plant.

Engineers said that the "acoustic fence" apparatus, as it is called, has the effect of multiplying by many times the number of guards on duty in adverse weather and at night. During heavy fog, blackouts, and night storms visibility is often zero and guards would have to be placed almost elbow to elbow to provide absolute protection along fences that often are 15 to 20 miles long.

But the robot sentinels can keep an alert 24-hour watch over every foot of fence, regardless of weather, enabling the human guardsmen to hear what is going on for blocks or even several miles along the fence line, and to tell instantly the location of any disturbance. Actually the fence itself serves as the robot's ears, capable even of overhearing voices speaking in whispers.

Pershing's Auto Number

Routine disclosure that Army Registration No. 17-561 has been issued to a light sedan assigned to the 503rd Parachute battalion at Fort Benning, Georgia, recalls that was the number of the car used by Gen. John J. Pershing as command of the A.E.F. in France almost a quarter of a century ago.

The big locomotive limousine which he used in France is now in the museum of the Holabird quarter-master depot. After the World war the car turned up in Washington in 1922. Two years later it was at Holabird, then returned to Washington where it was used by the quarter-master corps. In 1927 it was again returned to the Holabird depot, where it stands in the museum.

New York City Produce Market

New York, April 23 (AP)—The stock market resumed its long decline today after four sessions of comparative steadiness. Leading issues fell fractions to around two points.

Selling activities dominated the list from the start. Offerings of the top ranking industrial shares were prompted, brokers reported, by Washington hints that taxation, in conjunction with proposed inflation controls, would approach confiscatory limits.

Several pivots retreated to new lows for a year or longer and the fourth hour only a scattering of issues showed resistance to the downward trend.

American Telephone, U. S. Steel and Standard Oil (N. J.) registered new bottoms. Also under pressure were Chrysler, Sears Roebuck, Montgomery Ward, Western Union, duPont, Eastman and General Electric. Rails were down in fractions.

Bonds and commodities moved with shares.

Off in a mixed curb were Gulf Oil, Humble Oil and Phoenix Securities. Improved in the early proceedings were Brewster Aeronautical, American Gas & Electric, Glen Alden Coal, Pantepec Oil and Pennroad.

Government Officials Give Advice to Motorists on How To Conserve, Use Gasoline

Washington, April 23 (AP)—The motoring public of the east and southeast was put on notice today by the heads of five top-ranking war agencies that "motoring-as-usual is out."

Joining in issuing a 900-word statement explaining the situation were Petroleum Coordinator Harold L. Ickes, War Production Chairman Donald Nelson, Price Administrator Leon Henderson, Defense Transportation Director J. B. Eastman and the War Shipping Administrator Emory S. Land.

The government is asking motorists to:

Eliminate all unnecessary driving.

Form car-sharing pools with neighbors working in the same general area.

When use of the car has been reduced to the minimum, gasoline consumption may be further conserved by observing the following suggestions:

Drive under 40 miles an hour. Studies have shown that gasoline consumption increases with the speed of a car. A car getting 16.4 miles on a gallon of gas at a speed of 40 miles an hour will get only 14.6 miles on a gallon at 50 miles an hour; 12.6 at 60 miles; 10.6 at 70 miles, and 8.6 miles at 80 miles an hour.

Don't "idle" the motor unnecessarily. The Bureau of Standards report that a 30-second "idle" uses one-sixteenth as much gasoline as would be consumed by a car going one mile at 50 miles an hour.

Keep your car in good mechanical condition. Adjust the carburetor and timer. If properly adjusted, the motor—however excellent—will "knock a little" on inclines.

Whipping Post in Maryland

The customary punishment of whipping as a penalty for crime, part of the common law of England, was adopted by Maryland in its first constitution in 1776 and continued through all successive constitutions of the state down to the constitution of 1864, and then it was removed from the statute books, not by direct appeal, but by force of the Constitutional Amendment abolishing slavery.

The only crime for which the whipping post can be applied in Maryland now is for brutal assault on wife, under the Act of 1882, chapter 120, codified in 1939 code, section 11, article 27.

Presbytery Has Spring Gathering; Names Delegates

North River Presbytery heard Dr. Alva E. King of the Presbyterian Churches' department of united promotion speak on "The Presbyterian United World Emergency Fund," at its spring meeting in Calvary Church, Newburgh, Tuesday.

The Rev. D. Linton Doherty, pastor of the Roundout Presbyterian Church, presided as acting moderator, and the Rev. Devello S. Haynes of Highland was clerk.

Dr. King spoke of the problem of assisting small churches, near army camps and of missionaries stranded in the Philippines have retained most of the privileges ordinarily given them.

A commissioner from amongst the minister, the Rev. Albert Porter of the Bethlehem Church of Salisbury Mills, was elected the Presbytery at the General Assembly in Milwaukee starting May 21. Almost 40 persons attended the spring meeting. The Women's Organization of Calvary Church served a hot luncheon. Mrs. DuBois Schenck and Mrs. James V. Kohl were in charge of the luncheon committee.

The Presbytery granted a leave of absence to the Rev. Augustus Griffing of America to serve as chaplain in the Army. The Rev. Claude MacIntosh, formerly of Marlborough, sent greetings to the Presbytery from his chaplain's post in Louisiana.

Clinics Started

In order to immunize the children of the town of Ulster against smallpox and diphtheria, Dr. Clarence Gannon, health officer of the town, has arranged to hold a series of vaccination clinics in the various schools in the area as part of the defense program. The first of the series will be held on Monday, April 27, at the Eddyville school at 9 o'clock that morning, and in the Sawkill school at 11 o'clock in the morning.

Taxiing Planes

RUTH FRANCHLING

Ruth Franchling of Woodstock, Ulster county's first woman pilot to hold a commercial license, is en route back to Sanford, Fla., to deliver a second plane northward after having landed one machine at the Walden airport earlier this week. Ruth, hampered by strict government regulations, saw many flying fields on her trip up, but she made the jump in 18 hours of flying time in the red cruiser type plane. She is returning to back the smaller yellow plane. Both will be stationed at the local airport which is expected to open May 3. Ruth expects to be back this way again about Friday, May 1. The planes intended for the Kingston airport are landed at Walden pending government clearance at the local field. Ruth is a member of the National Aeronautical Association, the Ninety-Nines, a picked group; she has an instructor's rating and has credentials for civilian air pilot.

Arkville Man Arrested On Charge of Forgery

Elmer Davis, 65, of Arkville was arrested Wednesday by Troopers Arthur Reilly and Michael Judge of the B.C.I. on a charge of forgery, second degree. Davis was charged with having forged the name of John Tuttle, New Kingston cattle dealer, to a check which was made out to Roy Smith, a fictitious person, and endorsing the name of Smith to the instrument. Davis was arrested at Margaretville.

The troopers charged that Davis went to the store of Paul Shaver at Fleischmanns and bought merchandise and offered the check in payment, receiving also cash in change. The check was made out for $16. On arraignment before Justice Lester DePuy of Margaretville, Davis waived examination and was held for grand jury action and remanded to the county jail at Delhi.

Senate Kills Two Bills to Curtail General's Income

Hanley Says Acts Were Not Party Measures and Had No Special Aim at Anyone

Albany, N. Y., April 23 (AP)—New York's Senate today killed a pair of Republican-sponsored measures admittedly designed to limit the income of Major General John F. O'Ryan, state civilian defense director who resigned yesterday.

Democratic Minority Leader John J. Dunnigan attacked the measures as "nothing less than Republican party politics which drove these two fine men out of the state war council."

General O'Ryan's resignation was announced yesterday by Governor Lehman simultaneously with that of Lieut. General Stanley H. Ford, his chief aide.

In his letter of resignation, O'Ryan attributed his action to Assembly adoption of the bills, sponsored by Assemblyman John S. Thompson, Orleans Republican and a retired major general.

"Others have urged that I give no attention to the criticisms and activities of Assemblyman Thompson," O'Ryan wrote to Lehman. "However the fact is that the Assembly of this state has passed his bills which I must interpret as an approval of the assemblyman's course of action."

Senator Joe R. Hanley, Republican majority leader, stated "these bills are not party measures—and were not aimed at any particular persons."

Generals O'Ryan and Ford resigned before they were passed in either house." His statement contradicted other privately expressed views on the subject.

Opposition to the measures grew steadily during Senate debate. The first was defeated 21-22, and the second overwhelmed 8-31. Both needed 26 votes for passage. The principal effect of the measures, by limiting salary of any war council employee to $6,000 annually, would have restricted O'Ryan's income to this amount which he now receives annually as an army pension.

O'Ryan also has received $10,000 a year as head of the state defense council, to be reorganized as a war board May 1.

Rationing Board Sets Hours for Registration

users will have future sugar-purchase certificates issued on the basis of consumer quotients.

"The local rationing board strongly urges all institutional, industrial, wholesale-retailer sugar users to get their registration and application forms ahead of time, i.e., before Tuesday, April 28, and endeavor to have the forms filled out in entirety or at least to have the information called for in the forms available at that time. All those connected with the local rationing organization, namely, the Local Rationing Board, the superintendent of schools, the school-site administrator, the trade rationing advisers, and the registrars will be glad to help the registrants in any way possible in properly filling out registration and application forms. The important point to remember is to get these forms ready ahead of time if possible."

John M. Cashin, Stanley Matthews and Robert R. Rodie are the men comprising the local rationing board. The board will have charge of all government rationing plans, including gasoline, etc. Much work already has been accomplished on tires.

Measure Eliminating State Levy for Armories Passes; Pari-Mutuels Offset Loss

Albany, N. Y., April 23 (AP)—The Legislature sent to Governor Lehman today a Republican supported measure to save taxpayers approximately $2,000,000 annually by eliminating a real estate levy for support of armories.

Previously approved by the Senate, the bill passed the Assembly 80 to 60 on a straight party vote without debate.

To compensate for the revenue loss, the Assembly by an 84 to 46 vote also passed and sent to the governor a bill to increase the state's share of the 10 per cent "take" in pari-mutuel betting on horse races from five to six per cent.

The track's present share of five per cent would be decreased to four per cent, a reduction that Democratic legislators contended would "ruin" some of the race courses.

State revenue was expected to be boosted about $1,700,000 annually by the one per cent increase. The remainder necessary to offset the tax reduction would be taken from the state surplus. The Assembly also passed unanimously and referred to the Senate a defense measure that would guarantee local communities reimbursement by the state of 40 per cent of expenses for the care of persons evacuated from homes as a result of enemy attacks. The social welfare department would also be authorized to make full reimbursement with the governor's approval in special cases.

A bill to grant public employees leaves without pay to take defense jobs was reported by the Assembly rules committee for a floor vote. The measure would protect the retirement system status of such employees until six months after the war.

The Republican party's "work or else" bill was adopted by the Assembly yesterday and sent to the Senate. It would withhold public relief from persons refusing jobs for which they are fitted.

Hudson River Day Line Runs to Start May 29

Richard E. LaMar, in charge of the Albany area office of the Hudson River Day Line, is quoted as saying that "Despite war conditions, or because of them, the line will have at least as much if not more than the average patronage of last year."

The line is scheduled to re-open on May 29. Two of the large boats have been turned over to the government, but the line plans to operate four of its well known fleet on the river, the Henry Hudson, Alexander Hamilton, Robert Fulton and Chauncey M. Depew.

Two of the boats will make the trip from New York to Albany and from Albany to New York. The others will be used for excursions from New York to Indian Point and other scenic resorts along the lower Hudson.

Juries Drawn

Juries were drawn this morning in police court to hear the evidence to be presented in the trial of two motorists on charges of driving automobiles while intoxicated. The trials will be set for some night early in May.

The juries were drawn in the cases of Ernest Every, 59, of 202 Fair street, and Bernard V. Roach, 53, of 35 Stuyvesant street. Every was arrested on October 10, 1941, and Roach on September 20, 1941.

Decline in Castor Bean Growing

The castor bean plant, from which we get castor oil, is not a legume, as many suppose. Although the plant grows wild and is cultivated in tropical and subtropical countries, it is cultivated also in the warmer parts of temperate zones. The plant has been grown in this country for more than a hundred years but became an important commercial crop only in certain sections of Oklahoma, Kansas, Missouri, and Illinois in the latter part of the 19th century, from 1860 to 1900. Since that time, however, the industry has declined and practically has been abandoned in this country. This decline has been attributed chiefly to the reduction in price caused by the importation of large amounts of cheap castor seed from other countries, especially from India, China and Brazil.

Of ten to twelve million heifer calves born in the United States annually, about half are kept for milk cows and the remainder become beef.

Publishers Honor Syracuse Co-Ed

Anne Diamond of Cedar Rapids, Ia., a journalism student at Syracuse University, smiled happily in New York when she received a $1,000 cash award and a gold medal, as winner of the American Newspaper Publishers' Association essay contest. Walter M. Dear, A. N. P. A. president and publisher of the Jersey City Journal, presented the prizes with Jerome D. Barnum (left) of Syracuse watching.

DeLuce Gives Vivid Story of A.V.G. Fighting In Battle for Burma

(Though the following dispatch from Daniel De Luce has been 13 days in transit from the remote interior of embattled Burma, it remains a graphic picture of the grim battle against great odds being fought by the heroic "Flying Tigers" of the American Volunteer Group. Today, according to the latest battlefield communique, the boys of the A.V.G. still are waging that fight, in the face of constantly rising Japanese air strength.)

By DANIEL DeLUCE

With the American Volunteer Group in Burma, April 10 (Delayed) (AP)—Driven out of Mingaladon and then Magwe, the fighting Yanks of the American Volunteer Group, with the colors of China and Britain on their plane wings, now are braced against the inevitable heavy Japanese assaults on their new base defending northern Burma.

Already they have cracked down on the enemy's numerically superior forces, and have destroyed an entire squadron of the invaders' finest aircraft.

In two dogfights spaced 48 hours apart, ranging 100 miles over the green mountains of China's Yunnan province and Burma's Shan states, the American pilots broke up a swarm of Japanese air raiders and blasted 15 out of the sky for certain.

Five other enemy planes probably were destroyed in the combat.

The Japanese planes were on a special 1,000-mile mission, equipped with extra gas tanks, and were out to catch the A.V.G. aground. Twice, however, the heavily gunned Japanese Zero fighters fell into an ambush in the clouds.

The waiting Yanks raked them with a savage fire and Japanese planes hurtled from the skies, trailing clouds of white smoke, to plunge flaming into paddyfields and verdant jungle growths.

A Texan, who was a Royal Air Force sergeant pilot in Canada after washing out at the U. S. Air Corps training school at Love Field, Dallas, Tex., had the closest call.

During the course of the melee he got on the tail of a Zero fighter and, because of the difficulty he'd had confirming five previous combat victims in Burma, he followed his adversary down until he saw him crash in flames.

While the Texan was thus engaged another Japanese plane got on his tail and set a burst of machinegun fire through his instrument board. Oil from a broken line spurted over the Texan, blinding him, and he made a crash landing.

As he sat in his wrecked plane, half-stunned, another enemy plane swooped low with blazing guns and narrowly missed finishing him off.

Jap Scouts Field

Wednesday noon (April 8) a fast twin-engine Japanese reconnaissance bomber, possibly a Heinkel or JU-88 (German) model, scouted the field and eluded two pursuing American fliers flying with throats wide open. Then in mid-afternoon a Japanese fighter formation was reported en route.

Squadron Leader Arvid Olson of Chicago and Bob Little of Seattle, just arrived from Sinog, went aloft with Ed Overend of Coronado, Calif., Johnny Donovan of Montgomery, Ala., R. T. Smith of Lincoln, Neb., Fritz Wolf of Shawano, Wis., Cliff Groh of Chicago and Fred Hodges of Memphis, Tenn., at the controls of the older planes.

The Japanese suddenly swooped over the runway but there were no rows of stationary aircraft. They combed the edges of the field, hunting for concealed prey.

Nearly five miles high in the cloud-patched sky, more of the enemy hovered.

Then the Americans counter-attacked. Brown streaks of lightning dived at the low-flying strafers. Above the scream of motors and crackling gunfire, stricken Japanese planes sounded like exploding bombs when they crashed to the ground.

The Japanese cruising high in the sky stayed there, just dim silver specks to ground observers, while one after another ten of their mates died fighting and the remainder broke and fled in their damaged ships.

Wednesday's score was Olson one and Donovan one, their first victories; Overend, Groh, Hodges and Little, one apiece; and Smith and Wolf, two each.

Bride Sees Triumph

Hodges' pretty bride of six days, the former Helen Anderson of Rangoon, saw from a hilltop the lanky Tennesseean's triumph of the air.

Japanese air activity the following day dropped off to the point where only one reconnaissance plane wandered into the defensive zone.

Today (Friday, April 10) at dawn Japanese navy zero planes sneaked over the Chinese hills and roared toward the Americans' field in a technique apparently borrowed from the American fliers' devastating attacks on Moulmein and Chingmai.

Mechanics Dan Keller of Pittsburgh and Robert A. Smith of Ontario, N. Y., were warming up two Curtiss planes and dived for the nearest ditch, bullets nearly dusting their khaki jeans.

Up and down the field, twisting and swerving like playful porpoises, the Japanese emptied their guns. They headed for their base, seemingly reluctantly, for they turned and came back for a farewell sweep before vanishing.

But not a single Allied plane on the ground had been burned.

"The worst marksmanship we ever heard of," said Olson with great relief. "The Japs should take another lesson from Bill Reed and Ken Harnstedt at Moulmein."

This afternoon the Japanese returned—in confident, buzzing V formations of three planes each—stalking two miles up in puffy thick clouds for the kill. Possibly they expected to find a maimed American volunteer group helpless aground.

Then what must be the Japanese pilots' idea of hell broke loose—machine-guns firing from above and behind their tails with heavy tracers and armor-piercing bullets slashing at the unarmored navy zeros.

Bob Keeton, a former blocking halfback in Colorado collegiate football, Bob Brook of Cicero, Ill., and big Bob Smith were drawing first blood.

Smoke geysered from a crashing Japanese plane midway up a mountain. Another dug into ploughed land beside a river; another burned out of sight across a ridge.

Bill Reed, Marion, Ia., ace, was practically smothered with hot oil when an oil cap ripped off his windshield, but hit a navy zero with a tough angle shot and saw it burst in flames.

Then he slipped into a cloud bank to escape pursuing enemy craft and flew by instruments. "Get ready in case of fire," he radioed Olson, who was calling signals at the communications shack. "I'm coming into land covered with oil."

Another message came almost immediately, from Smith: "Hey, if anybody isn't doing anything, come over here—three zeros, east of the river over the hill."

Catapult Take-off

Lieutenant Alfred Cunningham, U. S. Marine Corps aviator, made the first catapult take-off from a warship under way.

An unusual game animal in North America is the musk-ox, which looks like a small, odd kind of buffalo and is similar in certain respects to both cattle and sheep.
